2.7 Million Expected To Vote In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio voters went for big state bond issues in recent elections, largely to improve their educational system, but will they vote extra direct tax on themselves for a similar purpose?

That is the chief statewide question on the eve of an election that Secretary of State Ted W. Brown expects will pull a record Ohio odd-year turnout of 2.7 million voters.

The Buckeye State also has the only congressional race in the nation Tuesday, for one-year tenure in the eight-county 7th District. Clarence J. Brown Jr. of Urbana, son of the late 27-year Republican representative, opposes Democrat James A. Berry of Springfield to fill Brown's unexpired term.

Majority contests in Cleveland, Akron, Toledo, Dayton, Canton and other cities and a host of local offices and issues will be decided.

The sales tax issue is only the sixth in 53 years that puts to the electorate a proposed law placed on the ballot by initiative petition. The proposal is whether the state sales tax—three per cent since its enactment a generation ago—is now to be increased.

Issue No. 1 of three statewide issues up for decision in the voting would, if approved, add a penny per dollar to the tax which applies to a wide range of goods and services.

Proponents, notably the Ohio Council for Education which got the signatures to get the issue on the ballot, say the increase would provide $116 million a year in additional money for the public schools. They contend the money is sorely needed.

But while the bond issues had the backing—and intensive campaigning—of Gov. James A. Rhodes, the sales tax question

Weather To Help Election Turnout

A promise of bright, sunny weather Tuesday may help boost the turnout as Columbiana County goes to the polls to elect local officials and decide the fate of a host of special questions and issues.

The forecaster said tomorrow will be sunny and a little warmer, considered ideal election weather.

The county's total vote is expected to fall between 31,000 and 32,500, according to Frank R. O'Hanlon, the County Election Board's director of elections.

East Liverpool will name 12 municipal officials for terms starting Jan. 1 and act on two local issues — a new 3.5-mill school levy and renewal of a 1.9-mill levy to finance garbage and trash collections.

Other cities, villages, townships and school districts will select local officials and decide a host of special questions and issues.

Division Among 11 Delegations

Top Boosters Of China For U.N. Seat Seen Split

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The leading boosters of Red China for U.N. membership are reported split over what to propose to the General Assembly.

Diplomatic sources said the division had developed among the 11 delegations that got the 117-nation assembly to agree to debate an item calling for "restoration of the lawful rights of the People's Republic of China in the United Nations."

They said Cambodia suggested a resolution proposing to seat Communist China on all U.N. bodies without expelling Nationalist China.

Albania, Red China's chief ally in its feud with the Soviet Union, urged that the resolution call for expulsion of the Chinese Nationalists in favor of the has no such administration support. Rhodes had taken no public position on the issue, letting his oft-stated policy of no new or increased taxes speak for itself while other Republican of popular vote. He said in a message to the legislature already appropriated the schools more money than ever.

Statewide Issue No. 2 would permit creation of urban service authorities in metropolitan counties, a means with which cities and suburbs could jointly operate water, sewer, park, transportation and other systems.

Issue No. 3 would permit judges in counties of less than 40,000 population to serve more than one court.

Simple majority approval would pass any of the three issues.

Polls will open at 6:30 a.m. and close at 6:30 p.m.

230,000 Expected To Vote In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — A turnout of 230,000 to 250,000 voters is expected Tuesday in Cleveland's municipal election.

The top attraction is the four-man race for mayor, in which incumbent Ralph S. Locher, a Democrat, faces the challenges of Republican Ralph J. Perk, and two independent Democrats — Carl B. H. Stowkes and Ralph A. McAllister.

Other attractions for Cleveland voters include decision on City Council candidates in 11 wards, selection of a new chief justice of the municipal court, and picking four members for the city board of education and one for the state school board.

Ray C. Miller, director of elections for the Cuyahoga County Board of Elections, estimates the election in Greater Cleveland will cost in the neighborhood of half a million dollars.

Red Missile Sites Hit By U.S. Planes

One Ruined And 2 Knocked Out Of Action, Pilots Say

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Dodging heavy missile and conventional antiaircraft fire, U.S. Navy and Air Force planes hit three surface-to-air missile sites Sunday about 35 miles northeast of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman said.

The pilots reported they left one site in ruins and knocked the other two out of action.

One Navy plane was shot down and the pilot was listed as missing.

Pilots reported they counted 17 missiles fired at them during the attack.

They said they observed hits on launchers and vehicles in the target areas of all three installations.

A highway bridge in the midst of the missile installations was destroyed during the coordinated Navy-Air Force strikes, the spokesman said.

The attacks on the missile sites were ordered after missiles were fired at planes from the carriers Oriskany and Independence during an attack on the key highway bridge. It was in the center of the missile installations.

A flight of Navy planes led by Cmdr. Harry T. Jenkins, 38, of Washington, D.C., dumped four tons of 500-pound bombs on one missile site, the spokesman said.

No missiles were launched from the site after the final run on the target, pilots reported.

At almost the same time, Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs led by a Navy A4 Skyhawk were bombing the two other installations nearby. The Navy plane

Boat Exodus From Cuba Will Resume

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Refugee boat traffic from Cuba, interrupted by a storm, resumes today. The Coast Guard said more than 100 persons in three boats were nearing Key West.

They would be the first to cross the wave-lashed Florida Straits since Saturday morning.

Awaited from Camariaca, the refugee departure point, were 77 Cubans aboard the Little Mike, 27 on the Spray and an undetermined number on the Lemon-drop, the Coast Guard said.

Seas that have put scores of boats in distress during the 25-day-old refugee shuttle were reported still treacherous for small craft. The Coast Guard has rescued many.

There was a known toll of five persons missing and one drowned.

Announcement was awaited of a U.S.-Cuba agreement for an airlift to supplant the hazardous do-it-yourself shuttle.

Most of the new refugees are taken to Miami and transported to other U.S. cities.

The Cuban Refugee Center in Miami reported this breakdown of the 1,308 arrivals to register for aid:

Clerical and sales personnel, 22 per cent; semiskilled workers, 19; skilled, 15.3; professional and semiprofessional, 8.5; service trades, 7; agriculture and fishing, 4; students, housewives and children, 25.

The center said exiles in the United States have completed questionnaires asking for the exit from Cuba of 127,638 relatives.

Of these, 44,583 were claimed by exiles in Miami and the others by exiles elsewhere in the United States.

In St. Petersburg, Fla., a newspaperman said bountiful

Klan Hearing Shifts Today To Violence

33 Witnesses Are Reported Lined Up By House Group

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A South Carolina man said to be the manufacturer of the robes of the Ku Klux Klan refused to answer any questions about his activities today. He was identified by the House Committee on Un-American Activities as Young M. Newton. He was said to be a partner with G.E. Blizard in the Heritage Garment Works, Columbia, S.C.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The congressional hearings into the Ku Klux Klan start their third week today with Georgia in the spotlight and with the focus turning from bank records to violence.

To probe the United Klans of America's activities in the Peach State, the House Committee on Un-American Activities has lined up 33 witnesses, according to Rep. Charles L. Weller, D-Ga.

Some of the witnesses are described as friendly, willing to try to link the Klan to acts of violence in Georgia.

Welter noted the committee had not been very successful in trying to connect Klan members to violence in North and South Carolina.

"There were the New Bern (N.C.) bombings and some cross burnings," said Welter. "But in Georgia, that's where the action is."

The accent on alleged Klan terror will continue as the inquiry moves deeper in the South, through Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Florida, Welter said.

Faced with the almost solid ranks of Fifth Amendment pleadings from the imperial wizard, grand dragons and cyclopes of the United Klans of America, the committee is trying out a new technique of cross-examination.

It used it Thursday in charging that Georgia Grand Dragon Calvin Craig allowed commando schools to be set up to teach Klansmen how to use bombs, booby traps and other techniques of terrorism.

Instead of having the investigator just fire accusatory questions at the witness, the investigator states under oath that the investigation has uncovered this or that evidence.

Then the witness is asked to confirm or deny it.

Jewish Origin Made Public

Leader In Klan Takes Own Life

READING, Pa. (AP) — Daniel Burros, New York Ku Klux Klan leader, shot himself to death minutes after learning his Jewish origin had been made public, a fellow Klansman told police.

Burros, 28, died of two bullet wounds Sunday shortly after he had read a New York Times story detailing his long-hidden background.

The shooting was in the apartment of Roy E. Frankhouser Jr., 25, who has been named by the House Committee on Un-American Activities as grand dragon of the Pennsylvania Ku Klux Klan.

Frankhouser told police that Burros, after reading the Times story, said he had to go to New York to "wipe out" the Times reporter who had disclosed his secret and said he also would "wipe out" the newspaper staff.

Burros, whose death was listed by police as apparently suicide, had been identified at hearings of the House committee as New York State grand dragon of the Klan.

Detective Capt. Joseph Conforta of the Reading police said Burros shot himself "as an aftermath" of the article published in the New York Times.

The article reported that

Were Tabbed For Elimination

Army Plan May Preserve 6 Of Reserve Divisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last six Army Reserve divisions — tabbed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara for elimination — may be saved after all.

It was learned today that Army planners are leaning toward a proposal that would preserve division structures and identities, although the outfits would be smaller than they are now and their members would drill without pay.

Such a solution might satisfy congressional critics of McNamara's plans to streamline the Army's National Guard and Reserve forces, although reservist groups still might object.

On Oct. 22, the Senate Armed Services Committee adopted a resolution formally calling on McNamara to postpone the elimination of 751 Army Reserve units until Congress can take a

Man To Face 2 Charges In Tavern Raid

Hancock Deputies, Troopers Conduct Search At Red Dog

Hancock County sheriff's deputies and West Virginia State Police, combining their efforts for the second time within two weeks, staged a raid Saturday night on the Red Dog Restaurant & Bar on the "Strip" on Route 30 east of Chester.

Armed with search and seizure warrants obtained from the office of Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland, the deputies and troopers arrested one man and confiscated 46 full bottles and 37 partially-filled bottles of liquor after entering the club shortly before 10.

Charged with exhibiting a gaming device and illegally possessing alcohol was Vincent Pecora, whose address was listed as Route 30. Pecora posted $500 and $100 bond on the two charges for an appearance Saturday at 10 a.m. before Squire Herron.

Two gambling devices, described as a blackjack table and a chuck-a-luck table, also were seized by the raiding party.

The two law enforcement agencies jointly raided the Win, Place and Show night club, located in the same vicinity, on Oct. 21, citing three persons.

Man Pinned By Metal At Route 7 Site

4 Others Injured Less Seriously In Pileup Of 3 Cars

Six men were injured — two seriously — in a three car collision on Route 7 south of Rogers this morning about 6:30.

Joseph Sines, 39, of East Liverpool R.D. 2, driver of one car was in "poor" condition at a Youngstown hospital while Ralph Miller, 41, of R.D. 3, passenger in his car, was in "fair" condition at City Hospital.

Edward Novotny, 28, of Youngstown, driver of another auto, was in "serious" condition, while Donald Curran, 31, of R.D. 1, driver of the third auto and two passengers in his car were treated at City Hospital and released.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Novotny was headed north in a 1965 sedan when his auto went left of center and collided with Sines' southbound 1959 sedan.

A 1955 Volkswagen driven by Curran and following Sines crashed into the side of Sines' car.

The impact knocked Sines' car to the east side of the roadway and spun the small auto backward to the same side. Novotny's sedan halted in the middle of the road.

Witnesses indicated Sines was pinned in the car for a while. He was taken to the Osteopathic Hospital, then transferred to Northside Hospital at Youngstown, his condition termed "poor."

He suffered a laceration of the head, a back injury and possible internal injuries. His sedan was demolished.

Miller is in City Hospital with arm and possible internal injuries.

Novotny is in City Hospital with lacerations of the head, fractured ribs and internal injuries.

Curran suffered a cut of the scalp and bruises. Passengers in his car were Donald Croxall, 32, of M.C. 22 who received bruises and James Davis, 29, of Chester R.D. 1 who suffered bruises. Curran's car received moderate damage.

The patrol is continuing its investigation of the crash which blocked traffic for some time.

Communist Party In U.S. Goes On Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Communist party goes on trial again today on charges of failing to register with the government as a Soviet agent.

Conviction on similar charges three years ago brought a $120,000 fine but was overturned by the U.S. Court of Appeals.

This time the Justice Department hopes to avert the legal loophole that spelled defeat after apparent victory in its 15-year battle with the party.

The 12-count indictment returned by a grand jury last February charges the party not only with failure to register but with doing so in the full knowledge that a volunteer was available and willing to register on behalf of the party.

The U.S. Court of Appeals, in striking down the 1962 conviction one year later, ruled that the government had had the burden of proving such a volunteer — unconcerned about possible self-incrimination — was available to sign the registration form and statement for the party.

Thus the highlight of the trial scheduled to open today in U.S.

Wilson Sees Possible OK In Rhodesia

LONDON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson says he believes a Rhodesian settlement is possible. But the colony's two leading Africans have rejected plans for a royal commission to work out a settlement.

Wilson returned Sunday night from talks in Rhodesia to report to Parliament on the agreement he reached with Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith to set up a three-man royal commission that will seek a formula for conditions under which the central African colony could be granted independence.

The British leader said the agreement has provided time for careful thought.

"We can, given the time, get a settlement," he added.

British newspaper commentators agreed that Wilson's mission had bought time for more negotiations. But they generally did not consider as bright the prospects for an acceptable settlement.

Wilson went to Rhodesia after the colony's ruling white minority threatened to declare independence without yielding to British demands for guarantees promising eventual rule to the colony's 4 million Africans. The white population numbers about 255,000.

The leader of one of Rhodesia's two African nationalist parties, Joshua Nkomo, said in a statement that Britain was evading its responsibilities in proposing the royal commission. He termed it "a time-wasting device."

The leader of the other nationalist party, the Rev. Ndabaningi Sithole, issued a statement "unreservedly rejecting the idea of a commission."

Both the rival nationalist leaders agreed to Wilson's proposal that the Rhodesian people as a whole should be asked if they want independence based on the existing 1961 constitution. In separate statements they insisted this be done by a one-man one-vote referendum.

Wilson and Smith have not yet agreed on the ground rules for the commission nor on ways to change the 1961 constitution to make it acceptable to both sides.

Fire Destroys Covered Bridge; Vandals Hinted

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's dwindling covered bridge population diminished by one Sunday when the longest such picturesque span left in the state was totally destroyed by fire, possibly set by Halloween vandals.

Sheriff Don Thompson called it arson and summoned the State Fire Marshal's Office to help find the culprits. The sheriff said the smell of oil was prevalent when deputies and firemen arrived at the scene on Deer Creek, too late to do any good.

Fayette County Commissioners Chairman Laurence Dufford said it is unlikely the board will replace the bridge. It would have had to be moved soon. A deer Creek dam being erected in neighboring Pickaway County will cause overflow at the site.

The Ohio Covered Bridge Committee of the Ohio Historical Society had hoped to relocate and preserve the 200-foot-long relic.

Rhodes Reveals New Industrial Team For Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes has announced organization of a new industrial development team called the "Ohio Industrial Fleet" whose members will be known as "Ohio Commodores."

The announcement came on the eve of today's departure of Rhodes and 57 Ohio businessmen and industrialists on a three-week tour of Europe in search of new markets for Ohio products.

Purpose of the "fleet," Rhodes said, is for members to scour the country by air, land and sea in search of new industry as part of Rhodes' drive to stimulate business and employment in Ohio.

The choice of the Commodore title comes from one of Ohio's national heroes, Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, who met the British in battle at Put-in-Bay during the war of 1812.

Nuclear energy is now being used by scientists to work novel changes in the chemical properties of wood. The wood is impregnated with plastic materials and then exposed to radiation, the result being an extremely hard wood - plastic alloy. The anticipated uses of this kind of wood range from table-tops to vinyl floor tiles.

School Officials Make Appeal For Wellsville Issue

Wellsville's school administrators joined today in issuing an appeal to the voters to pass the $885,000 building bond issue which will appear on Tuesday's ballot.

Pointing out the advantages of new buildings, the officials said "adequate space and better facilities provide for a better instruction program and better buildings make for better attitudes in teachers. Clean, attractive, modern school buildings are more conducive to learning than educationally obsolete schools."

In the high school, a broader industrial arts program would be provided. At present, Wellsville does not meet state standards in this department, they pointed out.

A distributive education program could be set up and better lab facilities provided for biology and the arts program would be improved because of more space. The library would be enlarged and located near the study hall. The library now cannot expand because of lack of space.

The building would have modern offices for guidance purposes and there would be space for cooperative school work programs that are financed solely by the state.

In the junior high school, the added crafts room would benefit slower students, the administrators said. Students would not have to go from building to building for physical education and seventh- and eighth-grade students would be moved out of the high school.

On the elementary level, more equal educational opportunities would be provided for all. The new building would assure the better use of materials and equipment and each elementary school would have its own library room. Adequate space would be provided for special education, the school officials said.

District Court is expected to be the testimony of the witness — or witnesses — the government claims the party could have claimed on.

His — or their — identity is a closely held secret between Asst. U.S. Atty. Joseph Lowther, who will prosecute the case, and the Justice Department's Internal Security Division.

John T. Abt of New York and Joseph Forer of Washington, are the party's attorneys in this trial.

The present indictment specifically charges the party with wilfully failing to register, as required by the Internal Security Act of 1950, on each of 11 days from Feb. 13 to Feb. 23 of this year. Each day constitutes a separate offense that carries a maximum penalty of $10,000.

The 12th count of the indictment — like that in the 1962 case — asserts that the party failed to file the required statement of members' names, aliases and addresses, along with a list of printing presses and reproduction equipment controlled by the party, as well as a detailed financial accounting.

Grange Holds Costume Fete

A masquerade party preceded the meeting of the Highlandtown Grange Thursday night in the Grange Hall. Approximately 40 attended.

Costume prizes were awarded to Juvenile Grange members as follows: Margie Francis, funniest; Mary Helen Withrow, prettiest; Dean Hays, ugliest; Jeff Seigler, most original, and Brian Hays, cutest.

Subordinate members receiving costume prizes were Mrs. Esther Smith, funniest; Ralph Hays, prettiest; Bob Seigler, most original, and Carl Leatherberry, ugliest.

Judges were Mrs. Verla Culp and Mrs. Peggy Rose. Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry was in charge of the party. She directed two games.

Mr. and Mrs. John Storck and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Donaldson were obligated with the first and second degree by Dale Rose, past master. They will be given the third and fourth degree at the next meeting Nov. 11 by Highlandtown's degree team. The 4-H girls will present the program at this meeting.

The juvenile lecture program in charge of Kendra Rose was: Poem, "Live by the Golden Rule." Margie Francis; "Story of Halloween," Kay McKenzie and Chris Wilson; poem, "The Witch," Lynette Hays and games. Halloween refreshments were served.

Juvenile degree team practice will be held Friday at 8 p. m. The subordinate degree team will hold a practice Nov. 8, preceded by a toy party at 7:30.

Reserves

33rd Infantry Division of Ohio and West Virginia, the 102nd Infantry Division of Missouri and Illinois, and the 81st Infantry Division of Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Army officials said these divisions average about 7,000 men each.

Under McNamara's plan, they would be obliterated, officials said.

However, under the proposal now being studied they would be converted into what are called "reinforcement training units."

As such, they would serve as a base for any general mobilization — although McNamara and his top aides doubt the world will ever again see a war of the magnitude of World War II requiring such a massive mobilization.

According to present Army staff thinking, all men with obligated Reserve service remaining would be transferred out of these divisions and placed in some of the 976 National Guard and Reserve units which are being formed into a first-line "select force" of 150,000 men.

Further, Army officials say, other reservists in the six divisions will be encouraged to transfer over to the "select force" where they would train intensively, continue to be paid for these drills, and be subject to crisis mobilization.

With what is left, the Army is thinking of retaining what amounts to skeleton of these divisions, manned by men interested enough in remaining as reservists to drill without pay, take military correspondence courses and otherwise keep active in Reserve affairs.

Such reservists might be paid for summer training and they definitely would continue to pile up credits toward retirement pay which they would collect after they turn 60.

Overtones Of Tragedy Marked On Halloween

By The Associated Press

There was the usual boisterous fun as Halloween was observed across the nation over the weekend, but the trick-or-treat season had some overtones of tragedy.

With the date falling on the Sabbath, communities observed the occasion on either Saturday or Sunday night — or both.

At Las Cruces, N.M., a woman called police and said bombs were being planted on her front lawn. Authorities found big glass globes in nets — ornaments used by Chinese restaurants or in Hawaiian settings.

At Saranac Lake, N.Y., motorists had free weekend parking as a result of pranks last year, when many meters were sprayed with shaving cream and had to be repaired. This year police removed the meters.

In Nashville, Tenn., a group of Boy Scouts set up a "goblin shop" in the living room of a home. One lad lay down in a homemade crypt with a blanket around his body and head, with only his face showing.

Three other boys stationed themselves around the dimly lit room.

Trick or treaters stumbled over a body or two, saw the youth rise slowly from the crypt, and frantically fled from the home.

The dark side: Near Washington Court House, Ohio, vandals burned down a 200-foot wooden covered bridge — one of the few such bridges left in the state.

At Bloomfield, Conn., a pumpkin thrown from a car shattered the windshield of Patricia Haley's car as she was driving along a street. She was hospitalized for removal of glass fragments from her face.

Philadelphia, Pa., police sent loudspeaker cars cruising through north Philadelphia warning residents of potentially dangerous medicinal capsules which were given trick or treating children.

Authorities said they had recovered all the capsules. They said six capsules could kill a youngster. Source of the pills was traced to a retarded child who had mixed the medicine in with candies.

Two Chicago girls went out Sunday night to seek "Halloween thrills."

The girls decided to stand on elevated railroad tracks. A speeding passenger train came along. One girl jumped to safety but Patricia Gilliam, 15, was struck and killed.

meals and carnival atmosphere couldn't hide the tension pervading Camarioca's refugee compound.

George Sweers, director of photography for the St. Petersburg Times, related after a three-day stay there:

"It was a sad scene. The refugees carried bags, boxes and suitcases containing the few clothes and possessions they were allowed to take. They did not smile or laugh. They huddled in little groups talking softly to each other."

Sweers said the Castro regime obviously went to great lengths to provide a festive setting for the Camarioca operation. The compound — complete with walkways and shrubbery — was built in seven days. A large thatched roof was built over a circular arena where refugees could sit and watch television. Food served in the compound's dining room was tasty and ample, he said.

"The refugees seemed amazed to see food so freely served," Sweers said. "They were used to searching stores for strictly rationed goods."

School Officials Make Appeal For Wellsville Issue

Wellsville's school administrators joined today in issuing an appeal to the voters to pass the $885,000 building bond issue which will appear on Tuesday's ballot.

Pointing out the advantages of new buildings, the officials said "adequate space and better facilities provide for a better instruction program and better buildings make for better attitudes in teachers. Clean, attractive, modern school buildings are more conducive to learning than educationally obsolete schools."

In the high school, a broader industrial arts program would be provided. At present, Wellsville does not meet state standards in this department, they pointed out.

A distributive education program could be set up and better lab facilities provided for biology and the arts program would be improved because of more space. The library would be enlarged and located near the study hall. The library now cannot expand because of lack of space.

The building would have modern offices for guidance purposes and there would be space for cooperative school work programs that are financed solely by the state.

In the junior high school, the added crafts room would benefit slower students, the ad-

John T. Abt of New York and Joseph Forer of Washington, are the party's attorneys in this trial.

The present indictment specifically charges the party with wilfully failing to register, as required by the Internal Security Act of 1950, on each of 11 days from Feb. 13 to Feb. 23 of this year. Each day constitutes a separate offense that carries a maximum penalty of $10,000.

The 12th count of the indictment — like that in the 1962 case — asserts that the party failed to file the required statement of members' names, aliases and addresses, along with a list of printing presses and reproduction equipment controlled by the party, as well as a detailed financial accounting.

33rd Infantry Division of Ohio and West Virginia, the 102nd Infantry Division of Missouri and Illinois, and the 81st Infantry Division of Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Army officials said these divisions average about 7,000 men each.

Under McNamara's plan, they would be obliterated, officials said.

However, under the proposal now being studied they would be converted into what are called "reinforcement training units."

As such, they would serve as a base for any general mobilization — although McNamara and his top aides doubt the world will ever again see a war of the magnitude of World War II requiring such a massive mobilization.

According to present Army staff thinking, all men with obligated Reserve service remaining would be transferred out of these divisions and placed in some of the 976 National Guard and Reserve units which are being formed into a first-line "select force" of 150,000 men.

Further, Army officials say, other reservists in the six divisions will be encouraged to transfer over to the "select force" where they would train intensively, continue to be paid for these drills, and be subject to crisis mobilization.

With what is left, the Army is thinking of retaining what amounts to skeleton of these divisions, manned by men interested enough in remaining as reservists to drill without pay, take military correspondence courses and otherwise keep active in Reserve affairs.

Such reservists might be paid for summer training and they definitely would continue to pile up credits toward retirement pay which they would collect after they turn 60.

Now It's Up To The Voters

The campaign promises have been made and the issues analyzed and re-analyzed. The voters will take over Tuesday.

Regardless of party, exercise your right to cast a ballot. The decisions to be made are important ones here and elsewhere.

Over the last few weeks The Review has offered recommendations on both candidates and issues. Locally, they are indicated by the X's inserted in the sample ballot below. The ballot shown is for use by voters in the First Ward. There also are races for Council posts in the Second, Third and Fourth Wards. The candidates are:

Second Ward, Mrs. Donna Richards Wilson,

Republican, and James F. Cunningham, Democrat.

Third Ward, Donald E. Smith, Democrat, and James E. Lowe, Republican.

Fourth Ward, Robert B. Laughlin, Democrat, and Harold R. Maylone, Republican.

The Review has recommended Mr. Cunningham, Mr. Smith and Mr. Maylone.

Among other endorsements were those for Mrs. Jessie Dunlop and Harry McConville for Board of Education in the East Liverpool School District and approval of a 3.5-mill school levy.

Three statewide issues appear on a separate ballot which voters will receive. We have called for the defeat of Issue No. 1 and passage of Issue No. 2 and Issue No. 3.

Help For Innocent Victims

Americans long have accepted as a principle what could become a practice only after furious debate.

They respond to appeals for help when their fellow citizens become victims of circumstances beyond their control. The widow of the Dallas patrolman, J. D. Tippitt, who was killed by Lee Harvey Oswald, the day President Kennedy was assassinated, was made independently wealthy by the contributions of sympathetic Americans.

This is routine practice when policemen are sacrificed to society's misbehavior. But now it is being proposed that all innocent victims of violence should be compensated and the compensation should come from the state itself.

Thus, an innocent victim of an automobile chase, such as police indulge in routinely in pursuit of suspects, would be entitled to compensation for injuries. Survivors would be entitled to government assistance in case of death.

Victims of holdups would have a moral claim and perhaps a legal claim on the public treasury, on the grounds that their misfortune resulted from a breakdown of law enforcement.

The principle is established. It is honored whenever people contribute to a fund to help the victim of a mishap or survivors in the case of death.

The practice of doing this out of public funds, leaving nothing to chance, will be argued long and loud. But hasn't the decision been made in advance by the people's inclination to help victims of circumstances beyond their control?

The Moment Of Truth

Ohio State University's announcement that its freshman class in 1966 will be comprised of students in the upper 25 per cent of their high school graduating class is a moment of truth for the big education facility in Columbus.

Time and circumstances will force all tax-supported universities in Ohio to follow suit eventually.

What this will amount to is a declaration that tax-supported education will be made available only for applicants who have given previous indication of ability to take advantage of it.

This has been the going rule in the country's best voluntary colleges and universities for a long time. They have been highly selective. Some have been turning down two-thirds of their applicants. Some have restricted enrollment to high school valedictorians and salutatorians.

All have given first preference to applicants who have proved their interest in advanced education by good performances in high school—not only as high-average students but also as well-rounded students.

Long gone and not regretted is the day when young men and women could get into college by showing up on the campus with the necessary funds.

From now on they are going to have to show up with credentials to show they are educable.

Support Urged For 3.5 Levy

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Tuesday, the voters of the East Liverpool School District will have an opportunity to cast their votes on a matter that could have a vital impact on the future of all of our students—the future men and women of our community.

Those of us who are privileged to vote will decide the fate of a 3.5-mill levy which, if passed, will provide additional income for salary increases for school personnel.

In order to have a completely up-to-date school program we must have properly qualified employees in our schools to direct the education each year of more than 5,000 students.

As the chief administrator of the largest single school system in Columbiana County, I am concerned with the education of our 5,675 boys and girls in the East Liverpool School District. I am concerned because we are losing some of our highly qualified teachers to other school districts. Twenty-four teachers left East Liverpool this past summer. Thirty teachers resigned last year.

Many people do not realize the difficulty we encounter when we try to secure qualified people to direct and carry out our educational program. People do realize, however, a basic fact that teachers are the prime source of a school's success or failure.

In administering our school system, a working staff of 285 employees of the Board of Education must be secured and maintained in order to educate our students. Two hundred thirty-two of the employees are teachers. To obtain highly proficient educators for the children of our community, we must recognize the importance of maintaining a competitive instructional salary base. Presently, our salary schedule for beginning teachers is lower than most schools in the tri-state area. Unless we have a sufficient amount of income to offer our teachers, an amount that would equal at least the average teacher's salary in the state of Ohio, we cannot and need not expect to compete for good teachers. Thus, our students suffer.

My purpose in writing this letter is to plead with the citizens of our school district to vote Yes for the levy. Passage will enable us to compete more favorably with other schools for qualified teachers. It will provide better instruction for our students as we obtain better trained personnel. It will help us retain the outstanding teachers already employed. It will help us obtain and keep proficient non-certificated personnel.

In my judgment, our request is not exorbitant. Certainly we need more money than we are requesting. We are asking for an amount we feel we can afford. The 3.5 mills will yield approximately $180,000 per year. It will cost the average home owner $14 per year. To be more specific, the cost would amount to 27 cents per week, or less than 4 cents per day for an average home owner. If this amount of money means a sacrifice, it should not be a regrettable one because the investment is an investment in the future of boys and girls. The future of our community rests in our young people. They will reap the benefits of this endeavor.

How do the citizens of the East Liverpool School District feel about the education of our youth? The answer will come Tuesday. A choice and a decision is up to the voters. I hope our citizens will continue the much needed support.

Wellsville School Appeal Made

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Election Day is upon us and it wouldn't be Election Day, U.S.A., without some controversial issues.

In Wellsville, the most controversial seem to be the bond issue for school improvement. As usual, when the purse strings are touched, there is opposition, whether it's a reservoir for pure water, better fire equipment, street lights, sidewalks or police protection. Yet, all of these, including adequate school facilities, are vital to the life of any community.

It's easy to find an excuse for not supporting an issue, but not always easy to give an honest, logical reason.

At the Garfield School in Wellsville, one-third of the children attend classes in a building built in 1880. It's been in a deplorable state for years. Another one-third are housed in a building built in 1905. It, too, is out of date.

Do the people of Wellsville feel that these children don't deserve what others have? On the contrary, their American heritage entitles them to the same good, clean, pleasant school facilities as are enjoyed by children in other areas.

A few years ago another bond issue was submitted for passage in order to build a new elementary building and a Junior High School. It was passed, the schools were built and are now in use. But, make no mistake, the issue wasn't passed just by the people in one part of town.

We had controversy then, also, but the residents of the Garfield District worked for and supported the bond issue which led to the building of MacDonald school and Daw Junior High. Why? Because we realized that the time would come when we would need the support of the community to secure for our children a new and better school. That time is NOW. "Turnabout is fair play."

As a PTA organization, we wish to refer all members of every PTA to one of the goals, listed on every membership card, which states, "To develop between educators and the general public such united effort as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, social and spiritual education."

The cry has gone up, "I don't approve of transporting children by bus to school." Yet, every year we transport the football team, the basketball team and the band hundreds of miles by bus. No one seems to protest this practice. Does this mean we are unconcerned for our children's safety after they complete elementary school?

Our school system needs a building program. No plan will ever please everyone. Therefore we should choose the plan that does the most good for the most students.

We urge the voters of Wellsville to forget petty grievances, personal animosities and flimsy excuses and act as responsible people in a responsible way. Support the school issues!

(The above letter appears under the signatures of Mrs. Paul Campbell, president; Mrs. George Lewis, chairman, and Mrs. Richard Salisbury, co-chairman, of the Garfield Parent-Teacher Association Committee for Better Schools in Wellsville.)

Reasoning On Issue 1 Questioned

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

It is presumed that an editor of a newspaper has an understanding of, and a sympathetic attitude towards local problems. This is not evident in a series of editorials which have appeared in the East Liverpool Review opposing State Issue 1 which will appear on the ballot Nov. 2.

These editorials deal in generalities, not facts as they are. Studies by competent authorities reveal that the proposed one-cent increase in sales tax will provide $16,000,000 additional in state funds for the education Foundation Program.

Do we need these extra funds? The legislature tried to meet the needs with available funds. These are not adequate to upgrade what has not been provided over a recent four-year period and even longer. Ohio ranks sixth in wealth among the states and rates 49th in support of education. Do you presume this to be an excellent record?

The proposal of any legislation requires a visible practical method of financial support. An increase in a sales tax requires no new form of taxation. It is a fair tax because it taxes everyone not just property holders.

To indicate that tax receipts of any kind are, or are not increasing, will or will not, yield revenues, does not indicate what will be done for any phase of the total state program. It is what is allocated for a particular purpose, education of children, that is the consideration here.

A vote for Issue 1 is neither a vote for, nor against the legislature, or anyone else for that matter. It is clearly a vote for or against a better education for the children of East Liverpool and the state of Ohio with a more realistic share of support on the part of the state of Ohio, consistent with its ability to provide.

Vote yes for Issue 1 and exercise your right to provide for the children in your own community.

To Obey Or Not?

By David Lawrence

Johnson Stand Stirs Comment

It may come as a surprise to many people to learn President Johnson thinks he can ignore a federal law he dislikes, even though specifically directed by Congress to obey it.

There would have been no surprise if the Rev. Martin Luther King had said this in his crusade for "civil disobedience." But has a president of the United States the right to disregard an act of Congress setting forth explicitly how public funds shall be spent?

Congress at its recent session passed a bill authorizing $2 billion for various kinds of public works projects but stipulated that no money should be used to construct, operate or maintain future water resource projects costing under $10 million without specific approval of the public works committees of the House and Senate.

Mr. Johnson takes the position that to obey the provision would diminish the authority and powers of the presidency, and he says this is "repugnant to the Constitution."

It is significant that sections similar to the one Mr. Johnson objects to are contained in two laws passed by Congress during the Eisenhower administration. One was what is known as the small watershed section of the Soil Conservation Act. The other was the public building act of 1959.

WHAT IS causing dismay is President Johnson's declaration that because he, himself, considers a law "repugnant to the Constitution," he will not obey it.

Many presidents have been confronted with this dilemma in the past.

President Andrew Johnson didn't like the Reconstruction Act, which was passed after the War Between the States. But, when it was enacted by a two-thirds vote of both houses over his veto, he obeyed it, distasteful as the task was to him.

The big question now is how the constitutionality of the provision in the new law on public works projects is going to be tested.

Mr. Johnson can instruct the Department of Justice to file suit alleging the particular section in question is unconstitutional and get a court ruling.

If Mr. Johnson this week had merely announced he thought the provision of the present law to be unconstitutional, and if he had instructed the Department of Justice to file a suit and get a court ruling, there would have been no criticism.

But it certainly is a deviation from the spirit of the Constitution, itself, for the President to assert the right to choose the laws he will or will not enforce.

Often, Congress passes a single law which actually contains anywhere from a dozen to a hundred provisions, each of which could have been a separate statute. This formula is used in order to secure the passage of certain provisions which probably would never get presidential approval if passed as a single measure.

In rejecting the veto procedure that has always been open to a chief executive if he does not like a piece of legislation, Mr. Johnson says: "Absolute legal consistency would require that I veto what is otherwise a good bill because of this one objectionable provision."

WHAT MR. JOHNSON could do is give his support publicly to the adoption of a constitutional amendment often advocated in Congress which would permit a president to veto particular items in any law passed if he found them objectionable. These provisions could then be enacted only after two thirds of both houses had rejected his veto.

Mr. Johnson declares his "legal advisers" told him Congress had no right to put such a limitation as it did in the public works bill.

It would be enlightening if the American people now were told on what basis such legal advice was given. No precedent ever has been publicized which says the legislative branch cannot pass any law it pleases designating the exact purposes for which the executive branch is to spend the money.

The Constitution gives Congress the right not only to raise money by levying taxes but to say what shall be done with the money.

It certainly is novel, therefore, to read that a president of the United States feels he can decide for himself whether he shall obey a specific provision of a law passed by Congress with respect to the spending of public funds.

This is a startling development in American history.

Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — One hundred thirty-eight motor vehicles, including 18 trucks, were sold in Columbiana County during October, a decline of 30 from September's total.

J. B. Bevington of Beaver, veteran Ohio river pilot and master, retired after 30 years' government service.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A dispatch from Berlin said a British intelligence report declared it was definitely established that Adolf Hitler was dead.

Ruth Elynor Keddie, Mary Paula Nentwick, Margaret Rindfuss, Dorothy Weigle and Mary Alice Maley were initiated as new members of Beta Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

TEN YEARS AGO — Fifty organizations throughout the county were represented when more than 100 turned out for a meeting of the Hancock County League for Better Schools at New Cumberland High School.

Mrs. Raymond Huston was elected a life member of the May Rose Hart Missionary Society of the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church.

lying with the Air Force craft was hit during the raid by conventional ground fire.

Capt. Robert L. Harris, 34, of Longview, Tex., leader of one of the Air Force flights, reported sighting a parachute from the Navy plane. The pilot was listed as missing.

The action over the missile bridge. Then a second flight of Navy planes that also hit the bridge.

The Air Force planes dropped 19 tons of 500- and 750-pound bombs and fired thousands of rounds of 20mm cannon fire on the two installations they hit, the spokesman said.

While the missile installations still were under attack, pilots from the Oriskany completed their bombing runs on the bridge. Then a second flight of Navy planes that also hit the bridge.

In all, 21 tons of bombs were dropped on the bridge, "leaving it in a cloud of smoke and dust," the spokesman said.

Later photo reconnaissance and a low-level flight made by the Navy flight leader, Cmdr. Joe D. Adkins, 40, of Mariow, Okla., showed that all spans of the bridge were knocked into the water, the spokesman said.

Six U.S. planes have been reported shot down by the anti-aircraft missiles which the Soviets have installed in North Viet Nam. The sixth was a Navy jet fighter last Wednesday.

Permanent missile launching sites have been installed at several points around Hanoi and Haiphong, North Viet Nam's chief port. A number of mobile launchers are also operating. They can be set up and dismantled within 24 hours.

U.S. officials decline to estimate the number of missile launchers in North Viet Nam.

U.S. forces have reported three previous attacks on mobile missile units.

One sharp ground action was reported today in South Viet Nam, with troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division claiming a confirmed kill of 50 Communist fighters in the area of the Plei Me Special Forces camp. The spokesman said there were no American casualties.

Elements of the 1st Cavalry have been operating around Plei Me since they joined Vietnamese relief forces last week in lifting the siege of the camp 10 miles north of Saigon.

The spokesman said the enemy force was spotted by helicopter scouts who called for riflemen to be airlifted into rough terrain about five miles southwest of the camp.

Cincinnati Man To Continue $3 Fight Against City Hall

CINCINNATI (AP)—C. Jack Rusk, 23-year-old stock broker, vowed Sunday night to continue his $3 fight against City Hall. And he's found out it isn't easy to cut red tape.

Rusk has asked City Council to pass a special ordinance authorizing refund of $3 he paid for a parking meter violation, which the city said later he should not have had to pay.

To refund the money, Council estimated it would cost $30. The cost includes the time it would take to draw up and pass the ordinance.

Rusk's car was tagged with a ticket last month. Rusk said he had put enough money in the meter and asked the city to check it.

The city found the meter to be faulty, but only after Rusk had paid the fine. He was told if he wished a refund, he would have to file a request with Council.

Rusk did, and his battle started. The city does not maintain a fund for repayment of such fines.

"I realized that in all probability many persons had paid unjust fines like this," Rusk said, "and I decided to see that something was done about it."

Councilman John E. Held, in an attempt to save the city $30, mailed Rusk $3 from his own pocket, and told him:

"I don't think this is the proper way to handle it, but at least this way you are getting your $3 back, and you are accomplishing what you set out to accomplish—to show how ridiculous this situation was and to try to help prevent this happening to other citizens in the future."

Rusk would not go along and returned Held's $3.

The issue is now before City Manager William Wichman. And Council's Traffic Committee is studying possible ways to prevent similar recurrences.

Jewish Leader Being Honored Collapses, Dies

CINCINNATI (AP)—Samuel M. Schmidt, 83, a leader of Cincinnati's Jewish community for nearly half a century, was being honored Sunday night by the Jewish National Fund.

Schmidt stood up to receive a plaque and started a speech with, "The emotion is too strong."

The elderly man then suddenly collapsed and was dead within a few seconds.

Judge Gilbert Bettman had just presented Schmidt with the award before a crowd of 500 in the Jewish Community Center.

Schmidt retired last August after his weekly Jewish newspaper, "Every Friday," ceased publication. He founded the paper in 1927.

Schmidt was being honored by the Jewish National Fund which had planted 10,000 trees in his name in the Ohio section of the John F. Kennedy Peace Forest in Israel.

Klan

ing six inches from Burros when police found him on the floor of the apartment of Frankhouser, self-styled right-wing segregationist and supporter of the American Nazi party.

Burros, stocky and bespectacled, had been shot twice with a 32-caliber gun, a doctor said. In his pockets were cards with Ku Klux Klan identifications and photographs of him in Klan regalia.

Burros was pronounced dead by Dr. Martin Austin, a Reading physician and deputy coroner, who ordered what he called a "thorough autopsy" at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Austin said one bullet went through the chest, above his heart, and the other through the right temple.

He indicated that either one of the shots should have been fatal and he questioned whether he could have fired a second shot.

Police said the coroner's office told them it was possible for Burros to have fired both shots, since the first bullet missed the heart.

Also in the apartment, in addition to Frankhouser, were Frank Rotelia, of New York City who has been identified as a Klan leader in New Jersey, and Regina Kupiszewski, 21, described by police as Frankhouser's girl friend.

The three were questioned by police and released with no charge filed against them.

According to Confora, Frankhouser told police Burros had come to his apartment Friday and had gone out for a copy of the New York Times Sunday morning.

Frankhouser said Burros returned with the newspaper and appeared upset as he walked into the bathroom, saying, "I have to go to New York now and kill a reporter, as I threatened," police related. They said that according to Frankhouser, Burros then pulled a revolver from his pocket and there was a struggle. Two shots went off and Burros staggered and fell in the living room. Frankhouser called police and an ambulance. Burros was dead by the time the ambulance arrived.

Frankhouser had been arrested in Philadelphia in 1962 and also in Reading for passing out anti-Semitic and anti-Negro literature. Last July, Frankhouser was badly beaten in a barroom brawl with three men and had to have his left eye removed as a result. Police said the fight was over his political and racial ideas.

Ohio Youth Unit Maps Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Youth Commission will begin immediately a $5.5 million building and rehabilitation program, Gov. James A. Rhodes announced today.

The governor said the program is designed to alleviate overcrowded conditions and to provide diversified services for children.

The program, under the direction of Youth Commission Chairman Daniel W. Johnson, is scheduled for completion in the spring of 1967.

Included in the building program are:

Renovation of the Mohican Youth Camp including a 72-bed project costing $450,000.

A 150-bed security institution for girls to be located across the highway from the present Scioto Village, costing $1.5 million.

A 200-bed boys training institution in northern Ohio—$40,000 for working drawing and architects fees.

A 300-bed boys medium security institution in northern Ohio—working drawing and architects fees costing $56,000.

A 250-bed institution for male first-offenders institution costing $1.5 million (site to be selected).

Crashes Hurt 2 In District On Weekend

Two were injured in three district highway mishaps Sunday, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Randolph Strader, 22, of Salem was treated at Salem City Hospital after a collision on Route 45 about five miles north of Lisbon at 10:45 a. m. yesterday.

Strader was driving a 1955 hearse owned by Frank Grafton of Salem which collided with a 1953 pickup truck driven by Andrew Hawkins, 76, of Fairmont, W.Va.

Officers said Strader stopped to make a left turn just as Hawkins attempted to pass and the two vehicles sideswiped. Hawkins was charged with improper passing.

Anna Kuebler, 78, of Crestline received slight injuries when the car in which she was a passenger collided with another on Route 14 at Unity at 5:38 p. m.

Ralph Newell, 45, of Barberton slowed because of traffic, and his car was struck from behind by one operated by Wilber Kuebler, 42, of Youngstown. The woman was a passenger in his car.

Kuebler was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Mary G. Decker, 31, of Hanoverton was cited for driving while intoxicated after her car veered off Route 30, about 1½ miles east of Route 9, smashed through a fence and went into a field at 2:10 a. m.

The patrol said her 1958 station wagon ripped down some 50 feet of fence owned by Harry Stiedel of Hanoverton R. D. 1.

MARILYN JACKSON
Open Church Rites Set.

Marilyn Jackson Wayne Boley Set Nuptials Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Jackson of 609 Washington Ave., Wellsville, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Marilyn Jackson, to Wayne A. Boley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boley of Wellsville R.D. 1.

The open church wedding will take place Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Church of Jesus Christ, with Edward Campbell, pastor, officiating. A reception will follow at the Jaycee Hall in Wellsville.

The bride-elect, a 1963 graduate of Wellsville High School, is employed at the Shamrock Lumber Co.

Her fiancé, who was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1960, works at the Taylor, Smith and Taylor Pottery Co. in Chester.

Mrs. Jennie Mackall, leader, announced the book sale will be held the week of Nov. 8 and the attic sale the week of Nov. 15, both in the building at the corner of E. 6th and Washington Sts. Plans also were made to send gifts to those in the service.

Mrs. Eva Pittenger conducted devotions on Galatians. Mrs. Alice Brown led the mission study on "The Conclusion And Ecumenical Approach To The New Nations."

Refreshments were served to nine by the hostess.

Mrs. Maxine Sutherland of Vine St. will entertain Nov. 18.

The McGaffie Memorial and Naomi Bible classes of the Boyce Methodist Church will meet Friday with Mrs. Grace Tice of First Ave.

Berean Class of the Grace United Presbyterian Church will meet Friday in the social rooms.

Mrs. Jo Ann Cehrs and Raymond Thomas were united in marriage the evening of Oct. 22 at 7:30 o'clock in the Oakland Free Methodist Church with the Rev. Harold Estel, pastor, officiating for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a Royal blue suit with an orchid corsage. Mrs. Robert Reed, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a blue dress with corsage of pink roses.

Robert Thomas served as his brother's best man.

A reception for 33 followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed of Riley Ave. The buffet table, decorated in a pink and white theme, was centered with a three-tier cake.

Following a honeymoon in New York City, the newlyweds are residing at 713 Laura Ave.

The bride is employed at the A. J. Olsen Co. and her husband at the Louthan Manufacturing Co.

Because of the election, the meeting of McLain Circle of the Grace United Presbyterian Church set for Tuesday at the church has been postponed until Wednesday with Mrs. Gertrude Blevins hostess.

Salineville Girl Marries In Ceremonies At Church

Miss Frances Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sweeney of Salineville, became the bride of Edward Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Baker of Kensington R.D. 1, on Oct. 23 at 7 o'clock in the Salineville Church of Christ.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Richard Beam, minister. Mrs. Janet Hart, church organist, played a half-hour of nuptial music.

The bride wore a dress of white brocade designed in a-line styling and accented with rhinestones and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible, the gift of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Okey Parsons. Her flowers were a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Gilda Bouscher was matron of honor and wore a blush pink dress with matching accessories.

WANT A BETTER EAST LIVERPOOL?

SURE YOU DO! WE ALL DO! THEN . . .

ROBERT OWEN

VOTE FOR
ROBERT OWEN
FOR

THIS IS MY PLATFORM AND MY AIMS

The purpose of this message is, naturally to ask you for your vote and support to elect me as YOUR Mayor, but more than that, to place me in the position whereby I can FURTHER ACT toward the fulfillment of YOUR ideas and dreams, as well as mine, in making our City a better City in which to live, work, play, shop and worship.

I do not profess to know all the answers to all the problems confronting us in these trying times, but I do know that I have been preparing myself for many years for this opportunity, and that I can go into office with an open mind, without prejudice, and with no entangling promises to anyone, and will give you an honest hard-working administration that will show you concrete results - - - (and black-top results) and workable compromises - the ability NOT to be at logger heads with everybody so that nothing gets accomplished. The best measure of competence in public leadership is the ability to achieve workable compromises (with the various departments, Council, the Unions, public utilities, corporations, new industry, the county and the state, etc.)

Our city is a good city. There is no organized crime here, no gambling syndicates, no corruption, and I have no desire to change this picture and I would not allow this to start during my administration! But an orderly city is not sufficient. Growth and development should be our deliberate aim. We must make innovation - rather than regulation - our reason for existence! We must look into the future - we must plan for the future - NOW.

I will propose a study to be made of our waterfront area, to plan ahead for land use so that docks and warehouses will be available, which will in turn boost the value and economy of our city.

I will propose a survey to provide adequate transportation for the workers and the shoppers - perhaps in the form of small jitney buses - faster and more economical. Mansfield licked this problem so why can't we? It should help to stop the decay of the Central Business District.

I propose to publish a clear simple periodic report of our city income tax expenditures, so that everyone will know where our tax money is being used. I have been promised the cooperation of our auditor, Lawrence Zollinger.

I will propose to council, that they, by resolution, earmark a certain percentage of income tax money each year towards our streets and alleys. This is my number one concern - getting all our streets and alleys hard surfaced, and it can be done; and to resurface all our badly worn streets. I intend to continue the highly successful low-cost street surfacing program that I proposed and promoted three years ago, not only to continue but to revitalize it.

I am in favor of enlisting financial aid, county, state, or federal wherever possible. When the master plan is completed, we will be eligible for aid in many areas. We can have low-rent housing - for the elderly and low income bracket. We can have more and better recreation and playground facilities. We can have a large boat marina, one that will bring tourists and vacationers here and keep them here - Spending money.

The way for progress is almost unlimited - and I am for progress.

We are all going to have to make a choice for Mayor on Nov. 2nd. I am offering my services to you in the hope that you will honor me with your vote. It may be a tough decision for many of us. We are both well qualified and experienced. I believe that I have one distinction, tho, in that I was Service-Safety Director for 3 years, wherein I learned of the physical needs of our city and of the detail work inside the Departments and from nowhere else do you gain this knowledge.

I sincerely want to be YOUR mayor - full time with door open to all, so will you please vote for me. I'll show you so much progress that you'll want me back next time, too.

Sincerely,
ROBERT OWEN

Church Women Schedule Friday Program At Citadel

Sewing kits and supplies will be brought to the annual observance of "World Community Day" to be sponsored by the Council of United Church Women 2 p. m. Friday at the Salvation Army Citadel.

Women of the area churches, who are making the kits, are asked to insert scissors, needles, thread, cards of buttons, pin and hooks. They may be supplemented with material and yarn, in all lengths.

Dr. Blair Whittington, pastor of the Second Church of Christ, will bring the message on the theme of the observance, "Laity's Mission In World Affairs," pointing out how church women can help the family of nations work out ways and keep the peace and free men from the bondage of hunger, ignorance, disease and fear.

Mrs. Roy Richards, president, announced that women of the hostess church will have charge of the worship program and music.

Program participants are Mrs. Nellie McLain, First Methodist Church; Mrs. Annie Carr, St. Stephen's Episcopal; Mrs. Grace Chambers, Second United Presbyterian; Mrs. Hazel Tittle and Mrs. Mildred Boso, First Baptist, and Mrs. Caesar Peters, Second Baptist.

The offering will go to Latin America, where the community development project in Chile is under Church World Service. It will make possible an expanded program for training for women a responsible parenthood and a family and community betterment.

District Workshop Plans Set By Camp Fire Group

The registration deadline is Friday for the district workshop of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., to be held Nov. 10 at the Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville.

Sponsored by the district training committees, invitations are extended to all registered adults from Weirton, Salem, East Palestine, Lisbon, Negley, Columbiana, Newell and East Liverpool.

Using the theme "Camp Fire Agro - Gro," sessions will begin at 9:30 a. m. and close at 3.

Mrs. Paddy Lang of the local Kinoka Council will teach songs and games as the opening item on the day's schedule.

Members of the East Palestine Council will bring the presentation on "Program Development," those of the Weirton Council "How To Sell Camp Fire" and the group from the Salem Council "Promote Camp Program."

Luncheon will be served at 11:45 and will be followed by group discussion.

Mrs. Gloria Higgins will be discussion leader for Bluebirds; Mrs. Harriet Faulk, Camp Fire; Mrs. Lang, Junior Hi, and Mrs. Rose Keuper, Horizon Club.

Mrs. Faulk is arranging the afternoon session on "Symbolism," with each council participating.

The closing ceremonial will be handled by the local council.

Cub Pack 36 Inducts Pair

Jerry O'Hanlon and Samuel Shipley were accepted as new members when Cub Pack 36 of Longs Run United Presbyterian Church met Friday night at the church.

James Cunningham, newly-appointed cubmaster, presented the two with Bobcat pins. He emphasized that the major character-building influence of the Cub movement comes from sharing experiences with his father, his mother and his den "buddies."

Also receiving awards were: Terry Hyder, Wolf pin and patch; Bryan Faulk, silver arrow, Wolf; James Wright, Jeffrey Morgan and Richard Savors, Bear pin and patches; Jan Rice, Lion pin and patch, and Dennis Thompson, gold arrow for Lion award.

Cunningham presented each den the national summer-time award banner for summer activities. He received on behalf of the pack a banner for taking part in the recent "Come See Us Day" and a plaque for having the most boys in line of march in a scouters' parade.

A Halloween party was a highlight of the meeting. The boys made the costumes, using the theme, "My Favorite Country." Mrs. Doris Thompson, retiring den mother, was presented a gift from the den mothers and committeemen. Mrs. Janet Morgan and mothers of Den 4 were in charge of refreshments.

A planning meeting will be held at the church Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. Members were reminded to attend a round-table meeting Nov. 12 at 7:30 p. m. at Yellow Creek United Presbyterian Church on Route 45. Pack and Troop 59 will be the host units. A pinewood derby will be held at the next pack meeting. Samuel Parks, cubmaster of Pack 12, will judge the race.

Open House Set On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Harper of Frankfort Springs will observe their 25th wedding anniversary next Sunday.

Open house will be held at their home by their daughters, Mrs. Glen Brady, Mrs. Halden Reed and Cheryl Harper, from 4 to 9 p. m.

The Harpers have resided in Frankfort Springs for 24 years. Mrs. Harper is the former Ruth Ackman.

They have one granddaughter, Kimberly Brady, 4.

Harper has been employed by Lightning Express in New Brighton the last 18 years. He is a trustee of the Frankfort Springs Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Harper is a beautician and has operated Ruth's Beauty Salon the last five years. She also enjoys sewing and painting.

Japan Starts Running World's Fastest Train

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's national railways began operating the world's fastest train service today, a 322-mile run from Tokyo to Osaka at an average of 103 miles an hour.

Clipping 50 minutes off the previous schedule, the day's first train made the run in 3 hours and 10 minutes. With about 800 passengers, the No. 1 Hikari at times hit more than 120 m.p.h.

A spokesman said subsequent trains kept to the same schedule.

Deaths and Funerals

Miss Anna Connell

Miss Anna L. Connell, 77, of Louisville, a former school teacher who resided with her niece, Mrs. John Bennett, died Sunday morning at the Mary Grove Rest Home in Canton after an illness of several months. She lived in Detroit for several years before going to the Bennett home. She was born in

Yellow Creek Township to the late S. George Connell and Mrs. Texanna Tarr Connell. She was graduated from Wellsville High School, Muskingum College at New Concord and the University of Pittsburgh. She taught school in East Liverpool for five years, and in the Pittsburgh schools for 40 years, then went to Detroit to reside. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Detroit and a life member of the National Retired Teachers Association.

Besides her niece she leaves a nephew and several cousins in this area. A sister, Mrs. Olive Aukerman, died July 3. Private funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. James A. McCollam, pastor of the Yellow Creek United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery in Wellsville.

Robert Bish

EAST PALESTINE — Robert G. Bish, 41, of 225 W. North Ave., a driller with the McKay & Gould Drilling Co. of East Palestine, died suddenly at his home this morning at 6 after suffering a heart attack.

He came here four months ago from Kellersburg, Pa., where he was born Feb. 17, 1924, a son of the late Millard B. Bish and Philomena Herlick Bish. He was an affiliate of the Evangelical Missionary Church of Kellersburg.

He is survived by his widow, the former Betty Gould; a son, Ronald Bish at home; five daughters, Patricia Bish, Nancy Bish, Ruth Ann Bish, Joyce Bish and Bonnie Cheryl Bish; and a sister, Miss Mabel Bish of Kellersburg.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 at the church at Kellersburg. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Friends may call at the Riess Funeral Home at New Bethlehem, Pa.

Mrs. Mildred Doll

EAST PALESTINE — Mrs. Mildred R. Doll, 57, of 131 E. 5th St., Gary, Ind., wife of Albert Doll and a former East Palestine resident, died Saturday morning at her home after a heart attack.

She was born Sept. 3, 1908, at Chester, a daughter of W. Thomas Lemley, now of East Palestine, and the late Mrs. Elizabeth Smith Lemley.

She was married in 1931 to Mr. Doll, and the family moved to Gary nine years ago. She was a member of the Covenant United Presbyterian Church of East Palestine.

Besides her husband and father, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lois Allard of East Palestine; two brothers, W. Thomas Lemley Jr. and Richard Lemley, both of East Palestine; two sisters, Mrs. Evelyn Lipp of R. D. 1 and Mrs. Raymond Huff of Akron, and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Tuesday morning at 11 at the Ol-ver Funeral Home by the Rev. Thomas Hammerton of the Centenary Methodist Church. Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

Samuel Johnson

Samuel Johnson, 1047 Pennsylvania Ave., a World War I veteran, died Friday at 9:05 p. m. at the Oakland Veterans Hospital in Pittsburgh after a long illness. He was 63.

Mr. Johnson was born in Midway, Ala., Aug. 15, 1902, son of Mrs. Mary Ross, who now resides in Union Springs, Ala. He lived here virtually his lifetime. He was employed last as a steward at the Veterans Social Club and at one time worked at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. He was a member of the Second Baptist Church.

In addition to his mother, he leaves two sons, Samuel Johnson Jr. and Gregg Johnson, both of Boston, Mass., and a sister, Mrs. Annie Phillips of Miami, Fla.

The Leavell Funeral Home in Midland is arranging services.

Mrs. Lulu Morris

EAST PALESTINE — Mrs. Lulu M. Morris, 89, of 446 W. Martin St., died Sunday at 12:10 p. m. at the Salem Convalescent Center, where she was a patient since Oct. 23.

Born Aug. 1, 1876, in Darlington Township, Beaver County, a daughter of the late Lawrence N. Smart and Annie Roberts Smart, she was married in 1898 to Harry G. Morris, who died in 1959. She was a member of Trinity United Presbyterian Church. She spent most of her life in this area.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Frank W. Springer of East Palestine; a sister, Mrs. Carl J. Anderson of Candler, Fla.; and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 at the VanDyke Funeral Home by the Rev. C. Lee Filker of the church.

Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call Tuesday night at the funeral home.

THINGS TO CONSIDER IN SELECTING A FUNERAL HOME

- ★ Is the location convenient and do the surroundings provide a proper setting?
- ★ Is off - street parking available along with plenty of room to privately form a funeral procession without tying up traffic?
- ★ Does the interior of the funeral home encourage respect and reverence?

Look for the answers to these questions the next time you attend a funeral or pay your respects at a funeral home.

For answers to any questions you may have regarding funeral service, ask for a free copy of our booklet "What Every Person Should Know". Write, phone or stop in.

Sheryl Richter, 3-year-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Richter, 740 Beaver Ave., Midland, is a patient at City Hospital.

In Ireland, forerunners of trick or treat went about begging gifts in honor of Muck Olla, an obscure folklore character probably linked to the Druids, who provided many Halloween customs.

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do when I have spilled a little bleach on dark cotton rugs?

A.—Touch up the white spots with food coloring to prevent them from being noticed.

Q.—What can I do about a scorched area on one of my husband's white shirts?

A.—If the scorched area is not burned too deeply, try bleaching it out under a sun-lamp. Moisten the affected area with water and hold it under the lamp until the fabric regains its whiteness. You may have to moisten it several times.

Q.—What can I do about cracks in old wallpaper when I am applying new paper over it?

A.—Use masking tape over these cracks, which will prevent their showing through the new paper or cracking the new paper at these same places.

Q.—How can I prevent the dust from flying when cleaning out the open fireplace?

A.—Before beginning your cleaning chore, throw a handful of wet tea leaves over the ashes, and this will hold down the dust.

Barbara Finds A New Tiger

Are round blondes losing out as sex symbols to straight brunettes?

Brunette Barbara Feldon, who is 5 feet 9, never weighs more than 115 pounds and plays "Agent 99" on NBC's "Get Smart" series, is not an entirely impartial observer but she thinks round blondes are passe.

"The Courreges look is very popular now. You see it in all the ads — girls with boots and broad-brimmed hats. It's not so severe as it was at first, but it's a straighter, flatter look," says Barbara.

STRAIGHT BRUNETTES owe Barbara a vote of thanks for enhancing their image. Before becoming a modern Mata Hari type on "Get Smart," she lay on tiger rugs, rode elephants and nearly lost a leg to a leopard in TV commercials plugging various cosmetics and male hair dressings.

"The leopard I will never forget," she relates. "True to the tradition that the commercial must go on, we had started filming at 7 in the morning and were still going at 7 that night. But the leopard didn't care about tradition. He got mad and hungry and began munching on my ankle."

"When I protested to the director, he said, 'But it's just a baby leopard.' I went to the executive for the sponsor. His answer was, 'Don't worry, you're insured.' But I worried."

BARBARA HASN'T been out with a leopard since. Tiger rugs are safer and just as symbolic of whatever it is Revlon thinks they are symbolic of.

Although she has wound up acting in one of the season's few hit TV shows, Barbara continues to do commercials because she finds it offers what she calls a more solid professional life than acting.

"Really, it's more difficult to do commercials than act," insists Barbara. "I'll spend six hours rehearsing for a one-minute commercial."

She also confesses, however, that part of the six-hour rehearsal is because she has to memorize the whole spiel. "Idiot" cards are no good to her—she's too nearsighted.

THE ACTING career which Barbara first aspired to began with her being a show girl in a Ziegfeld Follies show starring Bea Lillie. During that run she and the rest of the chorus were "tested" to see if they had any special knowledge qualifying one of them for a chance on the "64,000 Question" TV show.

"I had just gotten out of Carnegie Tech Drama School where I'd re-read all of Shakespeare, and I was still reading King Lear. You won't believe this, but the test they gave me was on King Lear."

"I studied Shakespeare 14 hours a day until I was called, and I won the $64,000. This was in 1957, long before the scandals, and anyway no one slipped me any answers. I don't think they ever did on that show."

A SHOW GIRL winning a Shakespeare quiz was a great publicity for Barbara, but aside from the money (which she invested in clothes and stocks), it really didn't net her much career-wise except the hatred of the other girls in the line at the Ziegfeld Follies, she says.

Her first TV acting was on "East Side, West Side." The role which got her the part of "Agent 99" was an industrial spy she played in an episode of last season's now defunct Mr. Broadway series produced by David Susskind's Talent Associates, the same company which is doing "Get Smart."

"I wasn't hired as a regular on 'Get Smart,' though," says Barbara. "Just the pilot show and three others."

Obviously the impact Barbara made as Don Adams' assistant in "Get Smart" was so immediate, it was decided to put her on the permanent payroll.

"I love Don," she says, in her best commercial come-on voice. "He's a real tiger."

Husband Saves Aerial Artist In 40-Foot Plunge

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — As 2,000 spectators gasped, trapeze performer Greta Frisk plunged 40 feet — straight into the arms of her husband who raced to the scene.

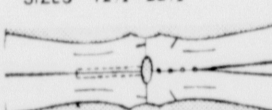

"I caught you," Fritz Frisk told his wife, who sprang from a trapeze in a flip-around motion but failed to grasp the bar after she had turned.

Bandmen stopped playing, and the crowd gave the couple an ovation. Circus manager John Pugh said the couple probably would have medical check-ups today. Neither appeared seriously hurt from the fall, which happened Sunday night at the Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros. Circus.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Parents Urged To Talk To Children

Often in this column, over the years, I have been urging parents to read to their young children. Today let's consider talking to them and with them.

Very early your baby responded to your voice as you talked to him softly with your dancing eyes. He responded Dr. Garry Myers with movements of his eyes, head, feet and whole body. You could tell that he liked to hear you talk to him.

As you undressed and dressed him and bathed him you talked: "Now we'll take this shoe off; and this one. Off comes the socks. Down over your head comes your shirt. Peek-a-bow! One hand in here." As soon as he can sit up you probably said, "rub-a-dub-dub" as you gently dried him.

BEFORE HE was a year old you may have been saying many nursery rhymes and singing lullabies to him during bath time. What fun it may be for him and you if you continue saying nursery rhymes to him as he follows you about the house or as you rock and cuddle him.

After you began reading to him, long before he was two, he liked to hear you say some of these rhymes while being with you in all sorts of places during the day.

When he began to coo and babble, you enjoyed hearing him. When you were close enough to him, you expressed your pleasure with your smiles and tender voice. More and more you and he enjoyed each other and communicated with each other long before he began conventional speech.

As soon as he began to say a few words, you expressed your pleasure at hearing them and still more pleasure as he used words or phrases you had never heard from him before. The more moments of pleasure this developing little person had in your presence, the more he wanted to say something to you, the more he talked.

WHEN HE felt as comfortable with his dad and other members of the family he also wanted to talk to them.

Before this infant is two or three, he may talk a great deal to his toys and other playthings. Of course they can't talk back to him. But isn't he getting more practice in speech than if his playthings were doing all the talking, he doing none; more than if all the talking came from radio or TV.

If you have the radio or TV turned on while you are with this little child your communication with him will often be interrupted or crowded out.

How wonderful it is when your little child begins to ask you questions, even when he can only grunt and gesture then, when you can answer him kindly and patiently; when he feels so good because you do.

See what a fine time for the younger and older child it is when the family leisurely and pleasantly eat together around the family table; when noises from radio and TV are shut out; when every person present feels he belongs.

AT THE evening mealtime, the preschool youngsters may like to tell of their day's experiences; those of school age, of theirs; all present may like to hear some of the experiences of Mother and Dad. How wonderful it is when all may comfortably talk some but not too much and all may enjoy hearing others talk.

Can you imagine a more favorable time for wholesome family education than the mealtime when all the family enjoy this period together.

My bulletins, "A Parent's Prayer," "The Young Child's Speech," "Letting Baby And Tot Learn" and "Enjoying Our Children," may be secured by sending a self-addressed envelope to me in care of The Review.

IF ELECTED - WITH THE HELP OF A HARD WORKING SINCERE COUNCIL I PROPOSE THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM

1. A street improvement program involving every section of the city.
2. Strive for immediate construction of low-cost housing under the recently established Metropolitan Housing Authority. To provide pleasant, clean and healthy living quarters for families in low income brackets as well as those on pension or Social Security.
3. Lend all possible support to every organization working for the development of a Local Airport.
4. Continue to work for the early construction of the 9th Street Ramp and the Lisbon Street and Shadyside improvement.
5. Request Property Improvement Legislation — Legislation for weed control and proper maintenance of sidewalks and curbs.
6. Improve present and secure more recreation facilities.
7. Seek and encourage Industries to come into town.
8. Request legislation to dispose of junked cars on streets, as well as on private property.
9. Establish preventative maintenance program for all city equipment to drastically cut operation costs and prolong the life of the equipment.
10. Enactment of a building code, to include supervision of street openings. This should be done as soon as possible to protect the public in any building venture. Building permits for construction and repairs involving well over $2,000,000.00 have been issued this year with no inspection available.
11. Construct a garage to house city rolling stock now worth approximately $75,000.00. (This does not include fire or incinerator department or water and sewage equipment).
12. Establish a community center for the use of all residents of the city.
13. Adopt a blanket bond program bonding the position as well as the personnel for better coverage at greatly reduced cost.
14. Replacement of North Side Fire Station.
15. Request council to appropriate at least 25% of City Income Tax for Capital Improvement.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Reverse The Weight Trend

In the battle of the bulge, timing is so important. If you gained five pounds over the summer, or alas, 10 pounds, take them off without further procrastination.

Why the imperative need for action? Those five pounds can so easily get you 10 by spring. It is well to regard a 10-pound upswing as the point of no return to ideal weight — unless you challenge yourself to act.

Forget the word diet and try something different. Systematically cut 100 to 200 calories a day off your regular meal pattern. Subtract the calories where they will be least missed. With this small calorie subtraction you will stop gaining and start losing, slowly. In a single month you will lose a pound and a half. By spring you will be 10 pounds lighter.

IT'S THE most practical plan for reducing, really, for you can't feel deprived. Leave out a half pat of butter, cut out the breakfast jelly. Eschew second helpings. Or skip the dessert. You'll have it made.

Intermittent dieting is not the way to control weight. A crash diet is particularly harmful. In fact, crash diets may result in establishing metabolic patterns of increased fat production.

As to portions: Have a satisfying serving of lean meat, fish or chicken, four or five ounces, cooked weight. Trim away the fat part. With vegetables, a half cup serving is right for all vegetables that grow below ground. The portion of green leafy and other vegetables that grow above ground can be generous, three-quarters to one cup serving. Use a measured amount of butter or margarine — a half-pat on a baked potato, or ear of corn. If you choose a starchy vegetable, leave off the bread at that meal.

TO PLAY it safe, have some vegetable oil in your daily diet. When feasible, cook with oil and use French Dressing on salads. Scientists have shown that the intake of the poly-unsaturated fatty acids will help to maintain a lower blood cholesterol level.

Be in-the-know on calorie timing. It's an almost constant finding that overweights tend to overeat at dinner. The oft repeated lament, "Everything I eat turns to fat," is fabrication. Only overeating is fattening. Make sure not to overeat at dinner, or at any meal.

A small amount of regular exercise will be doubly rewarding. Exercise not only reverses the weight trend, but can stop the sagging.

Send stamped, self-addressed long envelope for Revised Calorie Chart. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of The Review.

Giant tortoises on the arid Galapagos Islands store water from the scant rainfall in neck sacs. Shipwrecked mariners have been saved from death by tapping the unusual water supply.

Struck By Auto, Halloween Weekend Child, 7, Unhurt

SALINEVILLE — A 7-year-old Foundry Hill boy escaped serious injury when knocked down by a car on E. Main St. during Halloween trick-or-treating Saturday night.

David Grimes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grimes, apparently was unhurt when bumped by a car operated by Frederick Lightfoot of Boring Ln., East Liverpool, Marshall Ray Keister said.

The boy ran across the street in front of the car, the officers said.

Lightfoot was charged with reckless operation, and is scheduled for a hearing Nov. 11 before Mayor Stanley Fitch.

John Mostoller, 21, of 510 Walnut St., East Liverpool, was cited Sunday by Deputy Marshal Gordon Sweeney for reckless operation and is due a hearing Nov. 11.

Sylvester Leitheister of Alliance was charged with failure to halt for a stop sign.

Ex-Cleveland Manager Dies

CLEVELAND — Lee Fohl, a Cleveland Indians manager who groomed a baseball club that won a World Series in 1920, died Saturday night at his home in suburban Brooklyn. He was 88.

Fohl managed the Indians from 1915 to 1919 when the Tribe climbed from seventh place to second in the American League race. It was basically the same club that won the World Series under Tris Speaker in 1920.

Speaker took over after Fohl was fired by Indians owner Jimm Dunn when Babe Ruth hit a grand slam homer for the Boston Red Sox at League Park on July 18, 1919.

Fohl had called in Lefty Fritz Coumbe to pitch to Ruth, who poked one over the right field wall to give Boston an 8-7 victory. Dunn called Fohl into his office after the game and changed managers.

Fohl maintained the homer was not the reason, but that Dunn was under pressure from fans who wanted Speaker.

Born in Marietta, Fohl broke into professional ball in 1902 with Des Moines of the Western League and went to Pittsburgh late that year as a catcher. He played in only four games in the majors, batting .357 in 1903.

He managed many years in the minor leagues in — Lima, Akron and Waterbury, Conn.

After leaving the Indians, Fohl went to St. Louis where he managed the Browns and from there to the Boston Red Sox in 1927.

48 Lose Their Lives In Cairo Bus Plunge

CAIRO (AP)—A Cairo trolleybus fell into the Nile River today and 48 persons perished.

Rescue operations were being supervised by Deputy Premier Mahmoud Yunes and other high-ranking officials.

Rescue squads still were searching for bodies under water while others tried to lift up the bus.

Cause of the accident is unknown.

29 More Killed In Ohio Traffic

Traffic Fires Miscellaneous Total

By The Associated Press

It started with a youngster on trick-or-treat rounds Friday evening running into the path of a car. By the time the Halloween weekend was over, Ohio had registered one of its worst traffic tolls of the year. At least 29 persons perished.

Accidents during the 54-hour period included double-fatality vehicle crashes near Marietta and Akron on Saturday and in the Lorain and Akron areas on Sunday.

A Cleveland policeman was killed when his motorcycle slammed into the speeding car he was pursuing.

There were no reported fire deaths during the clear, mild midautumn weekend, but another accidental fatality occurred when a shotgun discharge killed a Steubenville youth.

The fatalities:

Friday night

Thomas G. Natle, 6, Deerfield, when he ran into the path of a car on Ohio 225 during "trick or treat" Halloween rounds of his neighborhood in Portage County.

Frank Humr, 28, Cleveland motorcycle patrolman, when his cycle crashed into a car.

James Trimmer, 14, Steubenville, struck in the chest by a shotgun blast as a 16-year-old companion tried to unload the weapon.

Saturday

Airman Carl Wolf, 21, Battle Creek, Mich., in a one-car wreck on U.S. 52 just east of Cincinnati.

Harold Buscy, 44, Clinton (Akron suburb), and Jerome Wojciechowski, Akron, when their auto struck the rear of a tractor-trailer eight miles northwest of Akron on U.S. 21.

Charles M. Carr, 87, Nelsonville, when he walked into the path of an auto on U.S. 33 north of Athens.

Douglas Lindamood and Joseph G. McCarthy, both about 22 and of Marietta, when their car hit a bridge on Ohio 60 north of Marietta.

Robert K. Kloes, 8, Waterford, in a two-car collision in western Washington County.

Sherian L. Harmon, 17, Bellevue, hit by a car as she rode her bicycle on Ohio 4 south of Sandusky.

Martin Nutter, about 80, of near Zanesville, passenger in an auto that turned into the path of another and crashed east of Newark.

Larry C. Rucker, 17, Dayton, in a head-on auto collision on U.S. 42 north of Xenia.

Charles Ziegler, 28, Broadview Heights, struck by a car as he walked along a road.

Norman Miller, 35, Warren, when his car hit a concrete bridge just west of Warren.

Sunday

Shirley L. Jennings, 20, New Philadelphia, passenger in an auto that wrecked on a township road near her home town.

Gregory Ebenhart, 16, University Heights, occupant of a car that struck a tree near North Madison in Lake County.

Harold R. Phillips, 43, Cardington, in an auto crash on Ohio 229 east of Marengo in Morrow County.

Larry Terrell, 18, Miamisburg, died Sunday of injuries received in a two-car collision Saturday night at a Miamisburg intersection.

James E. Schuler, 17, Bellefontaine, a passenger in an auto that wrecked on Ohio 540 near Bellefontaine.

Mrs. Pauline Kalain, 70, Barberton, and her grandson John Kirgesner, 11, Akron, when their car pulled onto Ohio 21 from a side road and collided with another auto.

Mrs. Lesty Mae White, 20, Fairfield, when her car was struck by another in suburban Cincinnati.

Dale E. Carrico, 19, Southfield, Mich., when his car hit a tree in South Euclid.

Grady Shuttleworth, 35, Cleveland, struck by an auto on Cleveland's Memorial Shoreway.

Eleuterio Gonzalez, 36, and Dorothy M. Layhue, 30, both of Lorain, when their car failed to make a curve on a rural road in Avon, hit a pole and caught fire.

Clarence Evans, about 50, Springfield, struck by a car on Interstate 75 near the Hamilton-Butler county line where he had alighted to retrieve his hat after it blew out of his own car.

Mrs. Theresa Mankin, 46, Pandora, when the car driven by her husband was hit broadside by another auto on U.S. 224 at Willard.

Willis Crumb, 57, Delaware, whose auto ran off a Delaware county road and hit a concrete culvert.

Two School Districts Get Okay On Issues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Board of Education meeting in special session today gave two school districts permission to place bond issues on Tuesday's election ballots.

They are the $7,750,000 Parma city school bond issue and a $550,000 bond issue for the Bloom-Carroll Local School District in Fairfield County.

Electoral College Action Proposed

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has passed the word he wants Congress to act next session on a proposed constitutional amendment aimed at tightening up the Electoral College system.

Despite the failure of more than 100 previous attempts on Capitol Hill to change the method by which presidents and vice presidents are elected, Johnson was said to feel that the Congress now may be in the mood to act.

Pair Injured In 2 Crashes

Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported three auto accidents over the weekend in which two persons were injured and three citations were issued.

Adam Myers, 19, a Waterford Park race track jockey, was taken to Weirton General Hospital Sunday morning about 1:30 after his 1956 auto went over a bank near the entrance at the track on Route 66. He is listed in "good" condition today with a back injury.

Deputies, who cited Myers for failure to have his vehicle under control, estimated $400 damage to his car.

In another accident Saturday about 7 p. m., autos driven by Marvel Katzenmeyer, 44, of 3rd Ave., New Cumberland, and Doris Tamiggi, 33, of Weirton, collided at the intersection of Kings Creek Rd. and State Route 2 south of New Cumberland.

Deputies cited the latter motorist, who pulled her car into the path of the northbound Katzenmeyer auto, for failure to have her vehicle under control.

A passenger in the Tamiggi auto, Eula Ballard, 30, of Weirton, was treated at Weirton General Hospital for a cut on the right knee. Combined damage of $700 was estimated to the two autos.

In the third accident Sunday afternoon about 3:15, Joseph Elder, 28, of 9th St., Newell, was charged with reckless driving after the 1964 auto he was operating collided with another driven by Norton James, 20, of Weirton on Route 68 south of Newell. Deputies said Elder was attempting to pass the other vehicle as they both headed north.

Elections Set For Tuesday In 11 States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The candidates do their last-minute speaking today as election campaigns conclude in 11 states.

Tuesday, the voters will do the speaking.

At stake are two governorships, the mayor's job in seven big cities, legislative seats in four states and 45 proposals, including some constitutional amendments, in eight states.

Most attention has focused on New York City where a successor to incumbent Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner will be chosen.

New Yorkers also will elect a new legislature and decide on nine constitutional amendments and four statewide propositions. The mayor's race is three-way: Democratic City Comptroller Abraham D. Beame, Republican Rep. John V. Lindsay and Conservative writer William F. Buckley Jr.

Newspaper polls peg the winner as either Beame or Lindsay.

Mayors also will be selected in Detroit, Pittsburgh, Houston, Buffalo, Louisville and Cleveland.

The gubernatorial races are in New Jersey and Virginia.

New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes, a Democrat, seeks a second term against the challenge of Republican State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr.

In Virginia, the principals are Democratic Lt. Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr., Republican A. Linwood Holton and Conservative William E. Story Jr. Incumbent Democrat Albert S. Harrison cannot succeed himself.

Legislative elections also are on tap in both states. Kentucky, too, will choose new legislators.

In addition to New York, the fate of constitutional amendments and statewide propositions will be decided in Texas, Florida, Kentucky, Maine, North Carolina, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

An early automobile manufacturer of little faith equipped each horseless carriage with a whip socket on the grounds that a horse would be needed sooner or later to pull the vehicle home.

Decision Due On Tuesday

Approval Of Wellsville Bond Issue To Alleviate Crowded Classrooms

Crowded conditions such as these in the high school will be alleviated if Wellsville School District voters approve the $885,000 building bond issues at Tuesday's general election, according to school administrators and the Wellsville Citizens Committee for Better Schools.

The high school was built in 1919 and had an enrollment of 137. It now has 593 students and the only addition has been that of three classrooms in the gymnasium. This is an increase of 336 per cent in 45 years, officials pointed out.

The projected enrollment for the coming term is 601. The building is in need of repairs. The plaster is in poor condition and the interior wood trim and doors need replaced. The biology lab is out-dated and the commercial room is overcrowded, with no facilities for office practice.

The art room is too small while the library is cramped and poorly located in the basement level.

The industrial arts drawing room is too small and new equipment is needed, while the music room must be shared by both instrumental and vocal students.

The rest rooms are antiquated and have no hot water. They require a complete renovation.

In the summer of 1963, the old wooden windows were replaced with new aluminum frames and the auditorium was renovated in the summer of 1964, but aside from this no other work has been done. The Daw Junior High School, added to the senior high building in 1955, has a projected enrollment of 276. It lacks a gymnasium. The students presently use the MacDonald School gym.

Municipal Court Case

Driver's License Lifted On Charges Of Speeding

A Wellsville area motorist had his license suspended for 60 days today in Municipal Court after admitting speeding 90 miles an hour on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

Melvin Arnie Taggart, 23, of Wellsville R. D. 1 was cited by the State Highway Patrol at 4:45 a. m. Thursday for traveling at the high rate of speed in the 50-mile zone.

George Williams, 18, of 234 W. Church Ln. drew a fine of $25 and costs for operating an unsafe vehicle, but Judge Samuel M. Chertoff delayed execution of the fine until next Monday to allow the youth to dispose of the 15-year-old auto.

Williams was cited Saturday morning at 8:30 a. m. on Route 267 by the patrol, which said the car's headlights were rusted out and it had no emergency brake, no turn signals, smooth tires, one window was out, the floorboards were rusted through and the license was held on by one bolt.

The officer said there was a dense fog at the time Williams was halted and visibility was limited to 200 feet or less.

Williams told Judge Chertoff he had paid $10 for the auto. If he produces evidence that he has disposed of the auto, Judge Chertoff said it will be considered in imposing the fine.

A bench warrant was ordered for Paul Foster Reed of Salem R. D. 5 when he failed to appear on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the freeway. Reed was cited by the patrol on Oct. 25.

Herman S. Kinsey Jr. of Rogers R. D. 1 was fined $15 and costs after pleading guilty to traveling 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7.

Daniel R. Michael, 1669 Ohio Ave., was fined $5 and costs after pleading guilty to making an illegal right turn from Washington St. onto E. 5th St. Sunday at 5:35 p. m. Eddie C. Morehead, 201 W. 3rd St., forfeited $17.50 after being cited on the same charge at the same time.

Ronald E. Williamson of Irondale R. D. 1 was ordered to pay court costs after producing a new driver's permit. Williamson was cited over the weekend on Dresden Ave. for driving on an expired permit.

Thomas R. Silbaugh of Solon forfeited a $27.50 bond for speeding 65 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on the Y. & O. Rd.

He was cited at 9:15 p. m. Friday by the patrol which said he "peeled rubber" starting from a traffic light and maintained the speed until forced to slow down because of traffic.

The patrol said small children on Halloween rounds were walking along the berm of the road.

Charles Franklin Bowser of Kent and John Michael Wycoff of Cleveland forfeited $17.50 bonds each. Bowser was cited Friday night for speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 30 and the Cleveland driver was cited on the same highway for operating a motor vehicle without tail lights.

A hearing is scheduled Thursday morning for Bobby Dane Yeager, 331 Garfield St., on a charge of operating a commercial vehicle without a valid highway use permit.

Yeager was cited by the patrol while driving a tractor last Thursday on Route 7. The tractor is owned by the Valley Truck Service, the patrol said. Meanwhile, Judge Chertoff said he suspended a $5 fine and costs imposed Thursday on Michael Vohar of Price St. Ext. after the 18-year-old youth returned to court Friday "with an American haircut."

The judge said the youth, who was to enter the service over the weekend, returned to court with the hair cut as "an All-American boy."

Judge Chertoff had offered Vohar the bargain when he appeared in court with a Beatle-type hairdo. He had been cited for making an illegal right turn at E. 5th and Washington Sts.

Concerts Due On South Side

In Weekend Crashes

Driver, 28, Hurt As Car Hits Pole

A 28-year-old East End man was cited by police early Sunday after a mishap in which his auto plunged off a North Side street.

Carleton Harris of Dewey Ave. Ext. was charged after a one-car wreck early Sunday on Anderson Blvd. near Orchard Grove Ave. in which he was injured.

Harris told police he was forced off the road by an approaching car at 1:09 a. m. Sunday.

The auto knocked down a pole and two city street signs, police said.

HARRIS was taken to City Hospital by ambulance. He was charged by Patrolman David K. Mumaw with failing to keep his car to the right of the center line.

Harris is due for a Municipal Court hearing after he is released from the hospital.

Harris was admitted to City Hospital for observation for possible injuries. He was listed in "good" condition today.

Donald Blaine Ice, 18, of 228½ Ravine St. was charged with driving without an operator's permit after his auto struck a picket fence on Center St. yesterday morning.

Sentencing of Ice was continued until Nov. 16 by Judge Samuel Chertoff to allow him time to obtain a license. He pleaded guilty.

The youth told police he was headed down Center St. but the brakes didn't work and he struck the fence at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tucker, 224 Center St.

A mishap on Lisbon St. near Belmar St. shortly before noon yesterday involved a backing car operated by Raymond Kent Moore, 24, of Ft. George Meade, Md., and a parked 1964 auto of Charles W. McKinnon, 46, of 7th Ave.

THE SOLDIER told officers he was backing from a grocery and struck the parked auto. He was driving a 1958 sedan owned by Donald D. Gordon of Kent Village, Md.

A mishap at 12:51 p. m. yesterday on Walnut St. at E. 3rd St. involved autos operated by Ruby A. Bise, 44, of R. D. 3 and Vernon M. Perroote, 16, of State Route 2 near Chester.

The youth said he was headed south on Walnut St. and had halted a few feet behind the stopped auto operated by Mrs. Bise. He apparently eased up on the brake pedal and his auto drifted into the rear of the front car, police said.

A collision at E. 3rd St. and Broadway at 3:19 p. m. Saturday damaged autos operated by David D. Brotherton, 29, of Akron and Robert E. Adkins, 46, of Lisbon St.

THE AKRON motorist told officers he was headed west and two cars were halted ahead of him with the lead auto making a left turn. He pulled to the right to pass and Adkins pulled out to pass at the same time, police said.

Charles A. Lowe, 39, of 709 Sanford Ave. told officers his car struck the rear of a west-bound Pennsylvania auto Saturday night on the Freeway, but caused no damage.

Lowe said he was following the other auto when the Pennsylvania halted as a truck cut in front of him. Lowe said he did not obtain the name of the other driver.

Police also filed a report of a mishap late Friday night on Washington St. involving cars driven by Gary R. Green, 17, of 1625 Pennsylvania Ave. and Lois Ann Krawiec, 17, of 1518 Smithfield St.

The girl said she spotted a parking place and started to back and struck the Green car.

French and Italian miners gouged out enough rock to build a sidewalk from Paris to Baghdad in boring the 7.2-mile highway tunnel beneath Mont Blanc.

Deputies Kept On Run By Halloween Pranks

LISBON — The ghosts and goblins may have had their fling last weekend, but deputies of the county sheriff's office experienced a very quiet, although sometimes amusing, Halloween season.

There were many calls from irate county residents complaining of vandalism which, upon investigation, turned out to be nothing more than windows decorated with soap marks.

One county resident was in a lather at an act of vandalism. An investigation revealed that the man's pickup truck had been covered by shaving cream from a bush-button can. The truck was hosed with water to remove the foam.

North Koreans Asked To Return Kidnaped

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The United Nations command asked North Korea today for the immediate return of more than 100 South Koreans who police said were kidnaped while fishing Friday in the Yellow Sea south of the demarcation line between North and South Korean waters.

Latest police reports said 112 men, women and children and two fishing boats were seized by armed North Koreans.

Education is not buildings or buses or bands in parades. Education is the process of learning by the student, teaching by the teacher. A good education depends upon qualified and capable teachers. As in industry, crafts and in other professions, the best teachers are attracted by the type of community, the schools and personnel and the salary schedule. In three years, East Liverpool will have the newest building system in Ohio. Unless the salary schedule is improved, East Liverpool will have a second rate education in the most modern school buildings in the state. Parents and everyone in the community have a primary responsibility to insure a proper education for the youth of our nation. Certainly a 27 cents each week for vital schooling is more important than any extra pack of cigarettes or another game of bowling.

Ohioville Mayor Asks New Term

Mayor Elmer R. Gifford of Ohioville Borough, a Republican, is bidding for a new term in the general election Tuesday, opposed by William Ondra, the Democratic nominee.

As part of Beaver County's trek to the polls, the borough also will name four councilmen, a tax collector and an auditor and two members of the Western Beaver County Board of Education.

Richard Rice (R) and F. Paul Brown (R), both incumbents, are joined by runningmates George Daniels and George Saucer in the race for Council seats against Democratic nominees, Louis Poss, Michael Hohan, Jesse C. Singleton and J. Howard Todd. Poss also is an incumbent.

Candidates for tax collector are Mrs. Ethel Paulovich (D) and F. Glenn Dawson (R). Mrs. Paulovich is running for reelection.

First terms on the School Board are sought by four candidates to be elected at-large. Olan Gibson (R) and Mrs. Betty Jane Brucker (R) oppose Bernie Schmitt (D) and Miss Annette Goyak (D). The winners will fill the posts vacated by Charles Henderson (D) and Willard Perine (R), who are retiring.

Mrs. Barbara Onuska (D) oppose Bernard Ratkovich (R) for the office of auditor.

WINFIELD B. MacBride (R), an incumbent, faces Steve Suhane, a former councilman, in the race for mayor in Tuesday's general election in Industry Borough.

Also featured in the election are the races for justice of the peace and the Borough school board.

Other offices to be decided are three Council seats, two at-large school director seats, tax collector and auditor.

James Christy (R) opposes Dick Chuldenko (D) for justice of the peace.

The Industry Borough School Board position is up for grabs between Richard Herbert (R), an incumbent and M. D. Renwick (D).

The candidates for the two at-large school director posts are Mrs. Betty Jane Brucker (R), Owen C. Gibson, (R), Miss Annette Goyak (D) and Bernard Schmitt (D).

Incumbents William A. Ralph (R) and Homer N. Paul (R) are joined by running mate Steve J. Hazy in the race for Council seats against Democratic nominees Noah Luster, Thomas Hanner and Ned Newitz.

EARL J. Hineman (R) is seeking reelection as tax collector against Donald Doyle (D).

Running for auditor are Donald R. Haswell (R) and Louis Pichelli (D).

Donald E. Laughlin (R) is seeking reelection as mayor against Thomas W. Wright (D) in Tuesday's general election at Hookstown.

Mildred Wright (D) is unopposed for justice of the peace.

Seeking second terms on the Council are four Republican incumbents, William J. Moore, James B. Anderson, Norman H. Brooks and Milton J. Potts. They are opposed by Democrats James Hector, Eugene Frazer, Blaine W. Mott and Jon Petkovich.

Francis W. Doak Jr. (R) is unopposed for reelection as tax collector. William A. Laughlin (R) is unopposed in seeking his second term as school director. Eunice Petkovich (D) is the only candidate for auditor.

WRITE - IN ballots will have to fill most of the positions in Georgetown Borough in the general election Tuesday as just three candidates are listed on the ballot with eight positions to fill.

Mayor William Cromer (R) is unopposed, as he was chosen by both parties in the primary to run for reelection.

Incumbent Republican Councilman Kenneth T. Mackall is the only candidate for a seat on Council. Four Council vacancies must be filled.

Walter M. Allison (D) won both parties' nod for reelection as tax collector in the primary and is unopposed.

No one is listed on the ballot for the school director post or for auditor in spite of write-in winners for both offices in the primary.

Opponents in the race for mayor of Shippingport Borough in the Tuesday general election are Republican John A. Coombs and Democrat Lawrence Hayward. Republican Mayor Gerald Rogers isn't seeking reelection.

Republican Councilmen Robert Christy, Wyane Swearingen, Smith Hayward and Carl Calhoun are unopposed for reelection. All but Swearingen are listed on the ballot as both Republican and Democrat candidates.

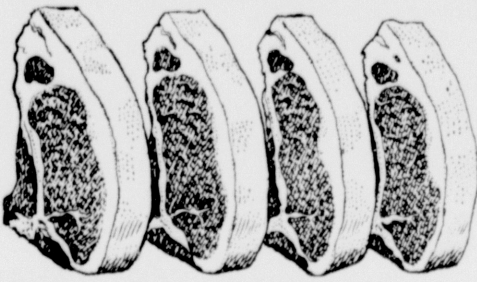

No candidates are listed for the offices of tax collector or auditor.

Republican Donna McCandless is the only candidate for the lone school board post.

Brush-Moore Will Play Role In Observance For Harding

Brush - Moore Newspapers, Inc., of which The Review is a member, will play a special part in the formal designation of the home of President Warren G. Harding at Marion as a national historical monument Tuesday as a climax to a year-long commemoration of his birth.

Brush-Moore, owners of the Marion Star which Harding published, will post a plaque on the building behind the Harding home which served as press headquarters during his campaign for the presidency.

Representing the donors will be Joseph K. Vodrey of Canton, vice president of the corporation, and William H. Vodrey Jr. of East Liverpool, secretary-treasurer and counsel for Brush-Moore and also president of the Ohio Historical Society.

They are the sons of the late William H. Vodrey of East Liverpool, who in 1927 joined with the late Roy D. Moore of Canton and the late Louis H. Brush of Salem to found Brush-Moore.

Harding bought the Star in partnership with two other men in 1894 when he was 19. He later became sole owner of the newspaper, which was sold June 18, 1923, to Brush - Moore.

The plaque will tell of Harding's birth Nov. 2, 1865, in Blooming Grove; his graduation from the old Ohio Central College in Iberia; his apprenticeship on the former Acaledonia Argus; his purchase of the Star, and his subsequent climb to the nation's highest office.

Mills Defeats Biacco In Turkey Shoot Event

A Highlandtown man won a turkey shoot Sunday, ending a four-week match held by the Highlandtown volunteer fire department.

Robert Mills defeated Sam Biacco of Center St., Wellsville, who was second. Third place went to Roger Shooks of Lisbon R.D.

Fifteen participated. Mills and Biacco had tied last week.

Another turkey shoot will be held by the firemen next Sunday at 1:30 p.m. off Route 39.

October Had Mercury Dip To Tie Mark

Cold weather pushed October's temperatures to almost three degrees below normal and tied an all - time low for the month, Edwin Copeland, U.S. weather observer at Millport, said today in his weather summary.

A reading of 15 degrees on Friday tied a 1952 record for October, Copeland reported.

The temperature last month averaged 48.6 degrees, compared to the normal 51.4 degrees, he said. The high mark last month was 74 degrees on Oct. 20.

Above normal rainfall was recorded. There were 4.68 inches of rain, compared to the norm of 2.52 inches.

In the past three months, the district has had 15.6 inches of rain, compared to 18.5 inches for the previous seven months, making the year an inch and a half over the normal amount so far, Copeland explained.

Because of the abnormal rain, farmland is soggy and potato growers are experiencing difficulty in digging their crop, he added.

There were 15 clear days, five partly cloudy days and 11 cloudy days, for a sunshine factor of 56 per cent, above the normal 50 per cent.

"THE BIBLE"

THE STANDARD OF AUTHORITY FOR MAN'S SALVATION
"Why I Am A Member Of The Church Of Christ"
V. CHRIST THE HEAD

Christ is the head of the Church of Christ. "And hath put all things under his feet and gave him to be the head over all things to the church which is his body the fullness of him that filleth all in all" (Ephesians 1:22-23). "And he is the head of the body, the church" (Colossians 1:18). "All authority hath been given unto me," Christ said in giving the Great Commission (Matthew 28:18-19). The Church of Christ has no county, state, national or international headquarters. Christ is the head of the church in a general sense and He is the head of each individual congregation. Every congregation is an independent unit selecting its own local officers and having Christ in heaven as its head. Christ is not the head of any denomination. He is the head of His church. Every member of the Church of Christ is subject to Christ.

No body is normal with two heads. Also, no head is normal with two hundred and fifty bodies. One head and one body is the only normal thing. Paul said: "For as we have many members in one body. . . . So we, being many, are one body in Christ" (Romans 12:4,5). Paul said once again: "For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace" (Corinthians 14:33).

I trust that you will honestly and sincerely consider all these facts in the light of God's Word (THE BIBLE). I could give many more reasons, but I trust these will help you. Remember Jesus said: "Seek and ye shall find; Knock, and it shall be opened unto you; Ask, and it shall be given you."

Homemakers Enjoy Artistic Touch

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

Women have found their niche in home improvements. They have gone from mucky tasks such as plastering, painting and wallpapering to the more pleasurable aspects of home decoration. They are absorbed in needlework and in the arts.

Even in an average home one may see little vases that have been baked in community kilns, small hand-fashioned ashtrays of metal, beautiful needlepoint chairs, crewel embroidered draperies. The artistic endeavors of the lady of the house may extend to wood sculpture.

BUT SOME women feel such artistic expression is beyond their scope.

"You can't tell whether you have talent unless you try," advises successful artist, Gloria Vanderbilt Cooper. She gets enormous pleasure out of decorating her home and painting in her studio.

"Being a creative person has nothing to do with background. But one must expose oneself to the arts to discover whether one has talent," she advises.

Everyone should be given that chance, she says. Besides the aesthetic advantages, absorption in the arts can bring relief from anxieties, especially in disturbed persons.

She has ventured into other areas — acting, writing and has tried needlework but finds "needlework moves too slowly." She likes to have faster results. She keeps needlepoint pillows, her own handwork, on a divan in her studio.

Her paintings are vivid, warm, imaginative, done in casein technique with cat-out-line, always with a bit of lavender that is almost a trademark. She uses lots of lavender in her homes.

She has had several successful exhibitions of her paintings in New York and last season at George Vigoroux' Nantucket and Palm Beach galleries a great many of her paintings were sold. This is great encouragement, she says.

"I THINK if you paint, you should keep things moving out or you'll slow up, so I keep it all going," she says. Once in a while she is tempted to hold on to a painting, but she lets it go eventually, if it is one she has painted for a gallery.

One art effort sold last winter, a nursery door with a painting, has been loaned to Tiffany's in New York for use in a booth designed by her for the store's current exhibition of tables. It shows a dark-haired little girl reaching up to turn the handle of a door. The theme of her booth is "a party for an 8-year-old girl."

"When you develop artistic talent, you look at everything in an artistic way, whether you are painting a door or coordinating a table setting. It makes everything you do more fun," she points out.

For this little birthday party she used her favorite color, lavender, with blue and white. She alternated checked table cloths, one lavender with white, one blue with white on two little tables. Chair seats and napkins are in the other color.

A small hooked rug has a design showing children at play. The birthday cake is white with lavender decoration and blue candles. A doll from her own collection served as a model for the little painting she did for the occasion. It is framed in the lavender and white checked cotton.

She loves little girls and dolls and keeps a tiny beat-up rag doll from her childhood in her studio.

Her youngest child, Carter, "Coop," she describes as the happiest baby in the world. He is 7 months old, born of her marriage to author Wyatt Cooper. She hopes some day to have a little girl. Her two older boys, Stan, 15, who shows "considerable art talent" and Chris, 14, who has an "inventive turn of mind," are children by a former marriage to Leopold Stokowski.

Make It Salable

Tips Offered On Homes

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Selling your house? Why not do as the professionals do?

The man who makes a living buying and selling old houses has a system. Before he puts an old house up for sale, he makes it salable.

Doesn't everybody? Decidedly not. Real estate dealers will tell you that, on the contrary, some persons neglect the maintenance of their houses when they are getting ready to put them up for sale. The theory seems to be that, since they will be selling soon, why spend money on property which will be long to somebody else?

WE'RE NOT referring now to major capital improvements, but simply to things which will make a prospective purchaser look with favor on the house.

It would be interesting to know how many times a house remains on the market for many months when it could have been sold quickly merely with the addition of a coat of paint.

A house with a shoddy exterior, peeling and dirty, turns away a prospective buyer before he gets to the front door. As a result, he may pass up a solid house at a reasonable price because he decided not to go inside.

Remember this important point: if you paint your house for the specific purpose of making it more salable, you can add the cost of painting to what are called "fixing-up expenses" at tax time.

Your local income tax office can advise you of the details about this, since some of them are a little complicated, but generally, if the painting is done within 90 days before the sale, the cost can be deducted from the sale price for tax purposes.

Thus, the money you spend on painting the house can help you to sell it faster, may get you a better price and gives you a tax advantage.

THERE ARE many other things, some of them seemingly trivial but actually important, that can help you to sell your house. Doors squeak? Oil the hinges. Faucets drip? Change the washers. Dirty dishes in the sink? Clean them and put them away before a prospect appears. Beds unmade? Straighten them out. Cracks in the wall? Patch them.

Many persons feel that neglected small matters usually are a sign of neglected big matters. Psychology plays a more important part in the sale of a house than most persons think.

Here is an actual example told to us by a real estate broker: after looking over a house they seemed to like, a couple told the broker in his office they had decided to reject it. He asked why. Because, the woman explained, every closet they opened was jammed to capacity, indicating there wasn't enough closet space in the house. Actually, the broker said, there were plenty of closets, but he couldn't convince the woman of that.

Legislators Eye Discussion On Apportion Plan

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A meeting of incumbent Mahoning County legislators is expected after Tuesday's general election to discuss the problems of running for office under the new reapportionment plan.

One incumbent, Rep. George D. Tablack, D-Struthers, senior Democrat in the Ohio House, is solving part of the problem by moving into the 82nd District.

Another Democratic representative from the 82nd, William J. Carney, says he may move into the 81st District. Currently there are no state representatives from the 81st.

All three of Mahoning County's representatives now live in the same district under the new reapportionment plan.

State Sen. Thomas P. Gilman, D-Mahoning, may decide to run for the House in the 83rd District because state senatorial redistricting squeezed him out of the last two years of the term he was elected to last year.

Rep. James Panno, D-82nd, is not expected to move.

Deadline for taking up residence for the 1966 election is Nov. 8.

100 Autos Crack Up During Heavy Fog In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A fog bank drifted across a freeway. A stream of cars raced in. None came out.

The fog muffled the screeching brakes and the crash of grille on bumper. By the time the last headlight tinkled broken to the Santa Ana Freeway, 100 cars had smashed together.

An hour later, as tow trucks disentangled the wrecks, another fog bank settled on another freeway 20 miles away—and 50 more cars piled up in two more cases of chain reaction, freeway style.

It took 41 police cars—two of which also were in accidents—to get the freeways flowing again after Sunday's multiple collisions.

The toll: one man seriously injured, 27 persons with less serious injuries. Damage: more than $100,000, including 30 cars demolished, 120 others damaged. What happened?

"It isn't one big accident," said Robert Mills, highway patrol operations officer. "It's a whole series of accidents. Maybe several cars in one pileup, then, a few yards away, several cars in another. It stretches all the way up the freeway."

The first accident occurred at dawn Sunday near where the Santa Ana Freeway crosses the San Gabriel River, 15 miles southeast of downtown Los Angeles. It was a misty morning, but traffic was humming along near the 65 miles-per-hour speed limit when river-bottom fog suddenly blotted visibility.

No one knows yet who triggered the first crash, but highway patrolmen suspect it was a motorist, panicked by the fog who slammed on his brakes.

The car behind hit him, and the one behind hit that. The freeway turned to a mass of screeching, careening cars as

Polish Event Marked In Cleveland Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohioans of Polish descent gathered here Sunday for the celebration of 1,000 years of Christianity and culture in Poland.

The event in Cleveland, center of the millennium activities, marked Poland's acceptance of the Christian religion, 1,000 years ago, more than half the length of time Christianity has been practiced.

Groundbreaking Held For $2 Million Plant

EASTLAKE, Ohio (AP)—The H. N. White Co., a leading manufacturer of woodwind and brass musical instruments, broke ground here today for a $2 million plant.

The plant is scheduled for completion next June 1 and will employ 500 workers, including 300 now at the company's plant in Cleveland.

Price Boosts Due On Some Steel Items

CLEVELAND (AP)—The odds favor selective price boosts next year averaging $5 to $6 a ton on certain steel products, Steel Magazine said today.

The metal working weekly also reported that the downward trend in steel ordering, which has been in effect since the steel settlement in September, is bottoming out.

Steel said it expects the price boosts to occur in plates, bars and structurals and also alloy products. The magazine added that "political and commercial considerations" would act to some extent as a deterrent.

Among these are President Johnson's probable opposition to a steel hike, competing materials and steel imports. But steel said pressures are building even though steelmakers know such moves would cause users to seek alternative materials.

Steel said "generally week-to-week order volume has stabilized" following the decline which began in September.

Steel said it also expects higher prices next year in iron castings and possibly copper, aluminum and tin.

Production of steel for ingots and castings has declined for nine consecutive weeks. Production for the week ended Oct. 30 was estimated at 2.01 million tons, a decline of 1.1 per cent. Production for October was estimated at 9.23 million tons, compared to 9.94 million tons in September.

September and October totals were the lowest since early 1964. Steel said, but annual production still is expected to set a record this year.

Jaywalking is not lightly condoned in the Himalayan State of Swat. A person caught in the act is forced to run along the roadside at top speed until he drops from exhaustion.

3 Killed, 2 Injured When Train Hits Car

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—A Baltimore & Ohio Railroad freight train slammed into a car at a crossing just north of here Sunday night, killing three teenagers and critically injuring two others.

Dead on arrival at Somerset Community Hospital were Charles M. Perry, 17, of Rockwood R.D. 2, Dorothy Slope, 15, of Berlin R.D. 1 and Patricia Snyder, about 15, of Berlin R.D. 1.

Larry Griffith, 15, of Somerset and Deborah Coley, 14, of Irwin, were admitted to the hospital in serious condition.

State police said the accident occurred on a secondary road near Adams, about six miles north of here.

LARRY ROBERTS (32) is shown on his way to one of four touchdowns he scored Saturday night as he is shown completely alone racing towards the goal line. Roberts scored 30 points in Beaver Local's 44-6 rout of Southern.

W. Branch Wins, 16-8 United's Streak Ends

SALEM—The district was left without an undefeated team as the aroused forces of West Branch High ended United's winning streak at seven games with a 16-8 upset here Saturday night.

The loss also ended a 14 game winning streak for United over a two year period.

West Branch, blending a running and passing game successfully, scored in the first and third periods while holding United scoreless until the final frame.

United didn't move the ball until the fourth quarter when the Eagles finally went to the air and marched 73 yards for their lone score.

A 54-yard pass play set up the first touchdown for West Branch as Jim Heacock threw to Ed Cline. The play carried to the United five and three plays later fullback John Stanley bulled over from the one then added the conversion for an 8-0 lead.

After a scoreless second period, West Branch scored in the third quarter picking up a United fumble on the Eagles' 44.

A 20-yard pass play carried to the 24. West Branch drove to the four where Stanley again plunged over for the six-pointer.

A pass from Haycock to Wilson netted the conversion midway through the third period.

United stopped a West Branch drive in the fourth quarter on the 27 then turned around to march 73 yards in 12 plays for its only score of the game.

Crestview Drops 6th To Reserve

Crestview was handed its sixth loss in eight starts when visiting Western Reserve scored a 16-0 victory Saturday.

Bob Sternagle scored both Reserve touchdowns on runs of 55 and five yards. Western opened the scoring in the first quarter on a safety then scored twice in the second half.

The winners now stand a 4-4 for the season.

3 Teams Win, One Ties In Grid League

Three teams scored victories and one other game wound up in a tie Sunday in Tri-State Little League Football.

Wellsville blanked the Rams, 34-0. Calcutta scored a 7-0 win over Chester and St. Aloysius won its first game, defeating Northside, 14-6.

The Dixonville - Red Devils battle ended in a 20-20 deadlock.

In a game played Wednesday, Chester defeated Dixonville, 26-6.

One game next Sunday shows the Red Devils meeting Wellsville at Wellsville at 2 p. m.

Sutherland Clinches Canadian Point Title

HAMILTON, Ont. — Former Ohio State University player Don Sutherland has clinched his second straight individual scoring title of the Canadian Football League's Eastern Division.

Sutherland, originally from Toronto, Ohio, scored 14 points Sunday for the Hamilton Tiger-Cats as they beat Toronto, Ont., 35-21. He thus ended the regular season with 81 points, 13 less than he tallied in 1964.

State's Floor Squads Open Drills Today

Today is the first official day of basketball practice for Ohio High Schools but East Liverpool High will not begin until Nov. 15 due to a local ruling.

The same week the Potters launch practice, they will participate in the Big 8 Conference preview scheduled this year at East Liverpool on Saturday Nov. 20.

Coach Frank Chan has two lettermen returning from last year's team including senior Chuck Winters and junior Vern Smith.

Poland Gains 22-2 Victory Over Bulldogs

POLAND — Poland's giant sized outfit rolled past East Palestine for a 22-2 victory in a Tri-County League contest here Saturday afternoon.

While Poland notched its fifth win in seven games, East Palestine fell to a 1-6 record.

Mike Simington dashed for two touchdowns on runs of one and 34 yards while Jim Blake tallied on a 16 yard run in the third quarter.

East Palestine averted a shut-out when the Bulldogs scored a safety in the third period.

Takes Over Scoring Lead

A new scoring leader in district football emerged over the weekend when Beaver Local's Larry Roberts went on a 30-point scoring spree as the Beavers rolled passed Southern Local, 44-6, Saturday night.

The homecoming crowd at Beaver Local watched Roberts score four touchdowns and added three two-point conversions for his grand total.

THE 30 points gives him 96 for eight games putting him 12 points in front of Wellsville's Chris Thornton who was held scoreless last week.

Coach Don Ross' Beavers evened their season record at 4-4 while Ed Oliver's Southern team dropped its seventh straight while showing one victory.

BETWEEN Roberts' running and the nifty passing of Dennis Klembara who threw for three touchdowns, the game turned into a one sided affair. The Beavers opened the scoreboard three times in the third period as Roberts ran 30 and 3 yards for two td's and Klembara hit Rich Shilling on a pass covering 60 yards.

The Beavers rolled up 222 yards rushing and almost equaled this mark passing with 207 yards through the air.

Several Beaver touchdowns were called back as the Beavers were hit hard by penalties. Officials marked off 150 yards in penalties on the Beaver eleven.

Glenn Stewart scored Southern's lone touchdown on a 45 yard pass play in the final period.

Beaver Local plays at Toronto Friday while Southern travels to United Saturday.

Chualo, Terrell To Meet Tonight

TORONTO — When towering Ernie Terrell and rugged George Chualo meet tonight in 15 rounds or less they undoubtedly will be thinking of more than Terrell's World Boxing Association heavyweight title, which will be at stake.

They will be thinking of being not just WBA champion but of being champion of all the world.

There is an excellent possibility that the winner of tonight's fight will meet the victory of the Cassius Clay - Floyd Patterson bout Nov. 22 at Las Vegas, Nev.

Clay is recognized by almost everyone as champion except the WBA, which stripped him of his crown for signing a return bout clause with Sonny Liston before their first meeting last year.

This will be Terrell's first defense of the championship he won in his hometown of Chicago with a decision over Eddie Machen earlier this year.

In Chualo, Terrell, a 6-foot-6 counter puncher, will be meeting an aggressive fighter who can absorb a lot of punishment. This was seen in his losing effort against Patterson in New York last winter. The Toronto battler's game effort in that fight put him into the heavyweight picture.

Despite Terrell's five-inch advantage in height and reach, Chualo has said he doesn't plan to alter in slam-bang, boring-in style.

Terrell also holds an edge in age — at 26 he is two years younger than the challenger — but will have a slight weight disadvantage. He probably will weigh 202 while Chualo is expected to scale 206.

The champion's record is 37-4. Chualo has won 33 of 42 fights. A gate of more than $148,000—the previous record for a fight in Canada — is foreseen. The record was set in 1956 when Archie Moore knocked out James J. Parker in nine rounds here.

Blanda Leads Houston's Upset Of Buffalo, 19-17

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

There have been some startling changes made in the American Football League due to the efforts of Gino Cappelletti, whose family tree has been traced back to Romeo and Juliet, and George Blanda, who goes back that far almost by himself.

Cappelletti caught two touchdown passes and kicked two field goals and two extra points, personally accounting for 20 points as the Boston Patriots won their first game Sunday by upsetting previously unbeaten San Diego 22-6.

Blanda kicked four field goals and passed for one touchdown, personally accounting for 18 points as the Houston Oilers moved up on Buffalo in the Eastern Division race by upsetting the Bills 19-17.

In other games, Kansas City defeated Oakland 14-7 and New York walloped Denver 45-10.

Cappelletti, whose family has traced his lineage back to the Capulet family of Juliet — Shakespeare is supposed to have changed the name for rhyme purposes — has not been in the spotlight this season despite his Most Valuable Player crown.

But against the Chargers he was most of the offensive show, grabbing 29 and 46-yard touchdown passes from Babe Parilli, kicking 30 and 33-yard field goals and adding the two extra points while the Patriots defense held San Diego scoreless until the fourth quarter.

The Oilers are on their way too, bringing their record to 4-3 while the Bills' mark dropped to 6-2. And Blanda, who came off the bench in the second half last week against Kansas City and passed for five touchdowns, was the key again — this time with his foot.

The 37-year-old veteran of 16 pro seasons, benched last week when Houston fans called for sophomore Don Trull, got the job done against Buffalo with a 10-yard touchdown pass to Ode Burrell and field goals of 31, 30, 13 and 8 yards.

The chiefs' victory moved them into a tie with the Raiders for second place in the West at 4-3-1 to San Diego's 5-1-2. Len Dawson passed 19's 5-1-2 to Christ Burford for the first Kansas City touchdown, thru capped an 80-yard fourth quarter drive with a one-yard touchdown plunge.

The Jets won their first game by turning three interceptions — by Ralph Baker, Larry Grantham and Ray Abruzzese — and Matt Snell's touchdown run into 24 points in the fourth quarter. Cookie Gilchrist of the Broncos was limited to 37 yards rushing in 11 attempts.

In England and Wales, soul cakes were baked about Oct. 28 to be distributed among the poor and eaten on All Souls' Day.

Manning Qualifies To Run At State; Potters Are 2nd

East Liverpool's Greg Manning qualified for the state meet Saturday at Columbus as the Potter cross country team finished second in the district meet Saturday at St. Clairsville. Eight teams were entered.

Bellaire High School captured the team title with 48 points and East Liverpool wasn't far off the pace with 59 points.

Manning finished fifth in the meet and the first seven runners qualify for the state run. 15, drew.

Neil Holiday of St. Clairsville was the individual winner in 10:14 over the two mile course.

Placing for the Potters were Jerry Wood 12th, Pete Manning 13th, Mike Kelly 14th and Rick Forzano, 15th.

FOR MEN

For that very special man in your life, finding an appropriate gift is often difficult. This year, why not consider something in the jewelry line for him - something special that he might not select for himself. Often, men are hesitant about fine jewelry since they are not sure what is correct to wear. The size of rings or cufflinks, type of stones, and choice of metals can be a problem.

I've found that men generally are fascinated by what we jewelers term "phenomenal" stones. These gems are the star sapphires and rubies, chrysoberyl Cat's eye, quartz Tiger's eye, moonstone and opal. Other good stones for men are those that are opaque, such as the gold-flecked deep blue lapis-lazuli, the brownish-red carnelian or sardonyx, green-flecked-with-red bloodstone and the striated forms of agate.

Rings in rather a heavy mounting are by far men's favorite form of jewelry. When selecting cuff-links, make sure that the man in question actually wears shirts with French cuffs. Today, the button cuff is seen frequently, as are short sleeved shirts. Tie-tacks are also a matter of personal choice with some men preferring the bar clasp. These are available in 14K and 18K gold and make an excellent gift. Most reasonable, too. Do stop in soon and discuss this subject further and see our fine collection of men's gems.

Take any clean, old nylon stocking and stuff a sponge down into it—along about the knee part.

Tie two knots, one at each end of the sponge. Use your scissors to whack off each end. Or, instead of tying knots in the stocking, cut it off near each end of the sponge, miter it and use safety pins to fasten it at each end. Now, if you are a perfectionist and want to hand sew this nylon on each end of the sponge, that's fine.

Make at least three of these while you are at it.

Put one in your kitchen to use for dishes, etc. The sponge holds the water and suds and picks up the drips that nylon alone won't do.

Put another in your bathroom. Use this to bathe with! Fantabulous. Ohhh... just wait until you try it. Also washes the tub like the genie from Aladdin's Lamp.

Put another in the trunk of your car. That "thing" will be mighty fine when the day comes to wash your car.

And, if you have the sponge and an extra stocking, why not make one for washing your windows? That little thing-a-majig is worth its weight in gold when used for this purpose.

But anyhow, do try one. You don't have a thing to lose—not even one penny, and them-kind-of-ideas is the best.

And if you find a hint running around loose in your home, why not send it along? Your coffee friends are dying to hear what you have to say. What you think everyone knows is probably the very thing they are looking for. Write to use in care of this paper.

Love ya,

Mayor Drive Concluded In New York City

NEW YORK (AP) — Democrat Abraham D. Beame and Republican-Liberal John V. Lindsay end one of the city's longest, costliest and closest campaigns for mayor today.

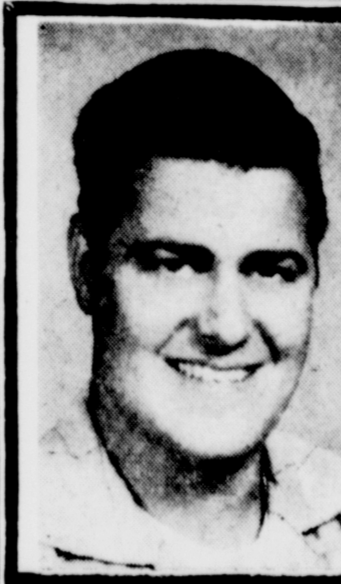

But Tuesday's election may hinge on the size of the vote for William F. Buckley Jr., 39, the Conservative party candidate.

Beame, 59, city comptroller under outgoing Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner, and Lindsay, 43, a Republican congressman, reportedly have spent $1.5 million each. Lindsay has been on the hustings since May 14, Beame since June 29.

Lindsay says Beame bears much responsibility for what Lindsay calls the failures of the 12-year Wagner administration. Wagner is not seeking re-election.

Moreover, Lindsay says Beame is allied with Democratic bosses whom Wagner failed to purge, and will open City Hall to "a parade of party hacks."

Beame, trying to capitalize on a 7-to-2 Democratic voter registration advantage, appeals to party loyalty, and says he can work better with the administration of President Johnson.

Some Interesting Items

'Rifling' The Mail Bag

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:
Most people can't stay still even while sleeping. The average person changes his posture from 40 to 60 times during his 8-hour daily period of sleep.
Americans spend more than a billion dollars a month eating away from home. Only about three per cent use a credit card.
In ancient Rome the patients of most female physicians were slaves.
We spend only about 25 minutes a day each in articulated speech. The rest of the time we satisfy our needs for communicating with the other fellow by waving, grimacing, grunting, smiling, frowning, shrugging or writing memos.

Quotable notables: "Always the path of American destiny has been into the unknown. Always there arose enough of reserves of strength, balance of sanity, portions of wisdom to carry the nation through to a fresh start with ever-renewing vitality." — Carl Sandburg.

Full moon is the time of the highest tides. Then the sun, moon and earth are in a straight line.
Safety fact: Surveys have found that drinking drivers are involved in more than 55 per cent of highway fatalities. The most dangerous one you can have is "the one for the road."

Bowling is one of the world's oldest sports. It has been traced back to 5,200 B.C.
History lesson: No U.S. president visited a foreign country during his term of office before the 20th century. The first to do so was Theodore Roosevelt, who went to Panama in 1906.
Worth remembering: "Flattery is having somebody else tell us the nice things we have always thought about ourselves."
You're a pretty good student of the Bible if you can name the wood Noah used to build the ark. It was called gopher wood. Most translators interpret this to mean cypress.
It was Katharine Hepburn who observed, "Only the plain people know about love — the very fascinating ones try so hard to create an impression that they soon exhaust their talents."

Sweet Cargo

$6 Million Industry In Fremont

By ROY WILHELM
Fremont News Messenger
FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—The trucks are rolling in here with a sweet cargo that amounts to a $6 million industry in this area.
They roll up to the Fremont plant of the Northern Ohio Sugar Beet Co. with the 1965 harvest of sugar beets.

Sugar is an industry that covers seven counties, with 507 growers and 250 employees of the Fremont plant. Nearly all of the $6 million of the 1965 crop represents stays in this area.
The Fremont plant, which won an efficiency award of the Great Western Sugar Corp. last year, is expected to process its largest yield in history this year. Company officials estimate the 1965 crop will be 225,000 tons of sugar beets, 35,000 tons more than the previous high of 1962.

According to previous averages, this means that more than $6 million will be brought into the area by the sugar beet industry. About half that money will go to growers.
The percentage a grower gets depends on quality of the beets — how much sugar they contain. Samples are taken of each load of beets as trucks come into the factory. These samples are analyzed for sugar content and growers are paid for the actual amount of sugar supplied.

Growers must harvest their own beets and transport them to the factory.

Beets are processed into three products — sugar, dried sugar beet pulp and sugar beet molasses.

The sugar is sold only in Northwest Ohio. Gordon Rudolph, manager of the Fremont plant, says the company tries to sell its product as close to the point of production as possible.

Sugar beet pulp is used for livestock feed, primarily by dairy farmers. It induces increased milk flow in dairy cows. Dairy operators in the immediate area, however, have an abundance of other feed and do not use much of the pulp. Most of it marketed in Eastern Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York.

Sugar beet molasses is used in livestock feeding in pharmaceutical products. The molasses is sold through an outlet in Toledo.

The growers will get about 18 tons of beets per acre from the 12,185 acres harvested.
Processing employs 70 full-time and 180 part-time workers. The factory started processing Oct. 6 and, because of the expected record yield, will run about 120 days, about 10 more than normal.

A new sugar bill passed before Congress adjourned will give the company some marketing relief. A greater percentage of the sugar that is produced can be sold under an increased marketing allotment.

Eases Into New Work Week

Johnson Will Emphasize Both Earning And Saving

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson eases into a new work week today emphasizing efforts to both earn and save money for the federal government.

Johnson ordered a Washington conference today to explore the possibility of selling off 1.4 million short tons of surplus stockpiled aluminum — a deal that could enrich the Treasury by several hundred million dollars.

The President was said to be prodding special assistant Joseph A. Califano Jr., back at the White House, to encourage trimming of budget and legislative requests that will go to Congress next year.

Johnson and wife Lady Bird were alone again at the LBJ Ranch — as alone as they ever can be — following the Sunday departures to both daughters to return to college classes.

The Texas White House still was keeping mum about reports that the younger daughter, 18-year-old Luci, had made a roundtrip weekend flight from Washington with 22-year-old boy friend Pat Nugent to seek Johnson's blessing for marriage.

James H. Moyers, filling in for his brother Bill as press secretary, told reporters he understood Luci and Pat left the ranch for Washington before Sunday lunch — and apparently before a lay minister of the Christian Church arrived to conduct family services. Both Luci and Pat are Roman Catholics. She is a freshman at the Georgetown University School of Nursing.

After Moyers announced the departure of Luci and Pat, he was asked if the chief executive's daughter had left in a huff.

"Oh, no," he said.

Moyers did his best, in fact, to knock down any speculation that Luci's Friday night flight here with Pat had led to any explosion within the family.

"The family has enjoyed being together this weekend," Moyers said.

Johnson was described by Moyers as still suffering from back pains attributed to the incision through which surgeons removed his gall bladder and a kidney stone on Oct. 8. However, he added, Johnson "feels that each day brings more progress" and both President and physicians are satisfied with his recovery.

The chief executive was said to have relaxed, worked a bit, walked about a mile and worshipped privately Sunday.

E. L. Review, Nov. 1, 1965.

LEGAL NOTICE

Revised Code Section 2603.17

John E. Fulmer, Sr., also known as Jack Fulmer, and Sylvia G. Fulmer, both of whom reside at 3439 Emerald Street, City of Torrence, California, will take notice that on the 30th day of April, 1965, The First National Bank of East Liverpool, at East Liverpool, Ohio, filed its petition against them in the Court of Common Pleas of Columbiana County, Ohio, the same being cause No. 90185 in said Court, for the marshalling of liens and sale of certain real estate and in said petition described as follows:

Said premises are also known as 313 Grant Street, East Liverpool, Ohio.

Defendants, John E. Fulmer, Sr., also known as Jack Fulmer, and Sylvia G. Fulmer, acquired the foregoing real estate by deed recorded in Deed Book 1000, Page 89, Columbiana County, Ohio, Deed Records.

The prayer of said petition is for the marshalling of liens and sale of said real estate and for other equitable relief. Said defendants are required to answer said petition on or before the 14th day of December, 1965, or judgment will be taken against them.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF EAST LIVERPOOL, at East Liverpool, Ohio, Plaintiff.

Francis H. Lang, Attorney for Plaintiff.

East Liverpool Review, November 1, 1965.

The Review is a member of the Association of Newspaper Classified Advertising Managers which includes practically all leading newspapers throughout the country and has for one of its aims the elimination of fraudulent advertising.

Place your ad by calling East Liverpool Review Want Ad Dept. 385-4545.

Accepted until 9:00 A. M. the day of publication.

Renewals of ads that appeared the previous day and corrections may be made until 9:00 A. M. on the day of publication.

Deadline: 5:00 P. M. the day before publication. On Mondays and on morning following legal holidays advertisements are accepted until 5:00 P. M.

The entire want ad section of this newspaper is at your service. It's yours for need of homes for sale or apartments people have for rent. Information on the best person to hire. It's yours if you want to hire help or find a job. It's yours if you want to sell used furniture or an automobile. It's yours if you want to buy or sell any items. The Want Ad columns are at your service. Read and use them for profit. To place a Want Ad simply Phone 385-4545.

If you are planning to use your Savings to plan for the future, here's a thought: Here's an easier way — one which thousands have been using lately with good results. You have unused furniture in the attic, a piano or a bedstead, or you have a fur coat or a bicycle which no longer is using. Why not sell them and get good hard cash in return? All you do is place an ad with what you have to sell listed under the proper classification. Our Want Ad taker will help you word your ad to attract the greatest number of people. Then watch the buyers begin to call.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEALS

QUESTION: Do seals have ears?

ANSWER: All seals have inner ears—but seals are divided into two groups. One is the Otariidae, or eared seal, which has ears which show distinctly on the outside. The other is the Phocidae, or true seal, which has no outer ear at all, merely a hole leading to the inner ear. The big, powerful sea lion, often seen off the Pacific coast, is an example of an eared seal. You can see his ear in the picture. Our picture shows him barking, and the fact that these sea lions make a lot of noise shows that their hearing is being used and is important to them in a number of ways. Sea lions are intelligent and have an amazing sense of balance, these being the seals generally seen doing tricks in circuses. The bottom part of the picture shows one of the true seals or Phocidae, called the ribbon seal. Unlike the sea lion, whose rear flippers reach forward when on land, true seals have rear flippers which always point backward, making them clumsy when on land. But this kind of seal is graceful as a fish when underwater and spends almost all of his time in the sea, which is the reason he has only slits for ears. He depends on sight and smell rather than sound, rarely making any sound, even when on land.

FOR YOU TO DO: Put rich browns over the sea lion and rocks to make them look real—with a bright blue sea behind. But color the underwater picture below a deep bluish green, which will give the feeling of being down in the ocean's mysterious depths.

Laveta Smith of Akron, Ohio, wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Monday, Nov. 1, the 305th day of 1965. There are 60 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1952, the United States exploded the first hydrogen bomb at Eniwetok Atoll in the Marshall Islands.
On this date
In 1500, the Italian sculptor, Benvenuto Cellini, was born.
In 1765, the English tax on the American colonies, the Stamp Act, was placed in force.
In 1776, the Continental Congress approved a lottery to defray military expenses.

In 1864, the U.S. money order system was established.
Ten years ago—Princess Margaret formally announced that she would not marry British Air Force Group Capt. Peter Townsend.
Five years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower stated that United States would take any steps necessary to defend its naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba.
One year ago—Five American jet bombers were destroyed and 22 other planes damaged in a Viet Cong attack on the U.S. air base at Bien Hoa in South Viet Nam.

Dear Ann: Will you please say something in the column about girls who are reluctant to break off their engagement for fear of what people might say?

Several weeks ago my favorite niece announced her engagement to an attractive young man. It looked like an ideal match. Yesterday my niece sobbed out her story. She allowed herself to be talked into the engagement by her socially ambitious mother. (The young man went to the right schools, belonged to the right clubs and his parents are Philadelphia Main Line.)

"Mother has always been more concerned with how my engagement announcement would look on the society pages than about my future happiness," is the way my niece put it.

She says her fiance is a nice person but she does not love him. She is afraid to break the engagement because people will think she's a kook. I hope you can make a dent. I can't.—TRIED AND FAILED.

Dear Tried: Tell your niece it's a lot less kooky to break an engagement than to marry a man she doesn't love just because she's afraid of what people might say. Furthermore, if your niece knew how little people cared she'd be shocked. Her real friends will be happy she avoided a very serious mistake. As for the others, why bother about them?

Fright Case

Dear Ann: What do you think of a man who took up a woman's time for 12 years, begged her to marry him and then, when she finally said yes, got so sick he had to take pills and lie down on the sofa?

I'm not a young girl any more, Ann. This whole thing has got me so upset I'm half sick myself. Since it happened he has said some pretty mean things. Now he tells me that the reason he has stomach trouble is because my cooking is lousy. (He never complained about my cooking when he was packing in the food here seven evenings a week.)

Is this man crazy or what? Should I continue to go with him now that I know he never really wanted to marry me? I must confess we are accustomed to each other and I'm afraid we'd be lost without one another.—VEXED

Dear Vexed: If you can forgive the dirty cracks about your cooking, continue to go with him for companionship.

Just because a man begs a woman to marry him doesn't mean he wants her to accept. Sometimes it only means he is asking what he considers a "safe" question.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

President Signs Pay Raise Bill

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has signed the 3.6 per cent federal pay-raise bill into law.

The measure provides salary boosts of $488.4 million annually to 1.8 million workers, including postal employees. In addition, $153 million in fringe benefits is included.

The pay increases are retroactive to the first pay period after Oct. 1. The fringe benefits generally became effective when the bill was signed late Friday night. The signing was announced Saturday night.

The measure does not include pay raises for congressmen, judges and high officials. Their rates were increased about 30 per cent last year.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average near normal east to 5 degrees above normal west. Representative normals are Cleveland 54-36, Columbus 53-35, Cincinnati 57-40. Warmer midweek, cooler latter part of week. Light showers about Wednesday will average one-tenth inch or less.

A woman's voice alerts B-58 bomber pilots to trouble. At the same time a pilot sees a flashing red light, he hears a pleasant and female voice caution: "Check for engine fire" or "Landing gear unsafe" or "The nose is too high." Pilots say the recordings catch their attention fast. "You might ignore a man's voice — but you don't ignore a woman's," one said.

How come 2,500,000 people in Ohio are insured by Metropolitan Life?

More and more of your neighbors are training a sharp eye on the future. In the process, they're discovering how useful Metropolitan's modern, diversified lineup of plans and policies can be.

For instance, Metropolitan has a plan that guarantees you an income as long as you live. Even if you live to be 110!

New—life income of 9% for men 65

If you're a man about to retire at 65, our new rate of payments on straight-life annuities can guarantee you an annual income for life—derived from principal and interest—of 9% of the purchase price.

And, although women outlive men, we can provide almost as good a return for them. We also have annuities for couples, providing income for as long as either one lives.

Note especially the word guarantee. For the amount you pay in, only an annuity gives you so large and so dependable a retirement income—guaranteed for life.

And remember, too, you now get the advantage of Metropolitan's best annuity rates in a quarter century.

Exceptional value for younger men and women

The younger you are when you invest in an annuity, the more it builds up for you over the years. Now's the time to get started.

Annuities are just part of the up-to-the-minute selection of life and health insurance plans you'd expect from America's leading life insurance company. Get the facts from your Metropolitan adviser.

More choose Metropolitan Life millions more than any other company

There are many reasons why Metropolitan Life insures 45,000,000 people—more than any other company. One good reason is local, personal service from the Metropolitan advisers at your nearest office:
